B.C. Cities Get Little Hope of Relief Burden May Be Increased Union Delegation Told

Will Be Asked to Pay Bigger Share of Social Service Costs

No Prospects of Increase in Unemployment Relief Scale

Members of the executive of the B.C. Union of Municipalities who waited upon the government this morning came away with little hope that their appeal under various heads for a relief of the taxation burdens would succeed.

Failure to secure promises of relief prompted Reeve William Crouch, president of the union, to remark that many cities and municipalities would be forced into receivership.

Several matters on which the union passed resolutions at its convention which closed yesterday were brought before the cabinet.

After the meeting members of the delegation expressed the view there was not the slightest prospect of a favorable reply to their appeal to give city councils control over school board financing.

They saw no prospects of a change in unemployment relief, either in relieving the share carried by the cities and municipalities or for an increase in the scale. During the discussion, Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, told the delegation the British Columbia Government was doing everything it possibly could and more than the Dominion Government authorized. It had overruled the allowance the Dominion Government made.

In direct contrast to their plea for a repeal of last year's legislation placing a share of social costs on cities and municipalities, definite intimation was given that the cities would be called upon to bear a greater share of the cost than imposed upon them at the last session.

Regarding the application of the cities to secure government loans at reasonable interest rates, the delegation was informed the provincial government had done all it could with the Dominion Government in this direction and had not succeeded.

SHAW ASKS WHERE JAPAN IS BOUND

Speaking of War, He Reminds Reporters Three European Empires Disappeared

Kobe, Japan, March 3.—George Bernard Shaw, British author and playwright, referring to the Japanese campaign in Jehol province, told a group of Japanese reporters here today that "the European war was imperialistic, yet it led to the disappearance of three empires."

Mr. Shaw, who is on a world tour, continued: "Have you in Japan ever thought that in your imperialistic aims you may end as a republic; and that is not at all what your rulers want? European imperialism, or what is left of them, would give their eyes for the return of 1914."

Referring to Soviet Russia, he said: "Russia does not rule because the sun is in heaven, but because he is the best man for the job."

MEMBER SCORES WAGE CUTTING

Worst Thing Government Could Do, Says Dr. J. J. Gillis

Thinks Minister's Bitterness in Discord With Union Government Plea

Forceful criticism against the government's policy of wage cutting and destroying purchasing power was voiced in the Legislature yesterday by Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberal, Yale, who urged every effort should be directed to placing and keeping workers on payrolls.

Dr. Gillis said he thought the Minister of Public Works' plea for a union conference was reasonable, but that if he had answered the question—what were the measures that a union government could carry out that this government with its majority could not have carried out.

Reference to the Imperial Economic Conference preferences were made by Dr. Gillis and he doubted if they did not mean Canada was raising such a tariff wall that other countries could not do business with it. Would this not prove a restriction of liberty and freedom that would create commercial anarchy? he asked.

Stressing the urgency of doing everything possible to relieve the condition of unemployment existing today, Dr. Gillis said he was not of those who believed a government could do nothing to prevent depressions of this kind. He believed every inquiry should be made into the reasons of the depression and the reasons of the depression.

House Owners Need Not Fear Increased Taxes By Aiding Employment Campaign

Fears expressed by some citizens that improvements to homes in the way of painting and repairing would result in increased assessment of their property were definitely set at rest this morning by City Assessment Commissioner George A. Okell.

"My policy has always been not to penalize a man who looks after his house," Mr. Okell said. "There are hundreds of things which can be done to a home that do not affect the assessment in any particular."

The only work on a house which might result in an increase in the assessment would be an actual structural addition, such as a new room.

Re-shingling, painting and general repairing of dwellings would have absolutely no result on the assessment value, he said.

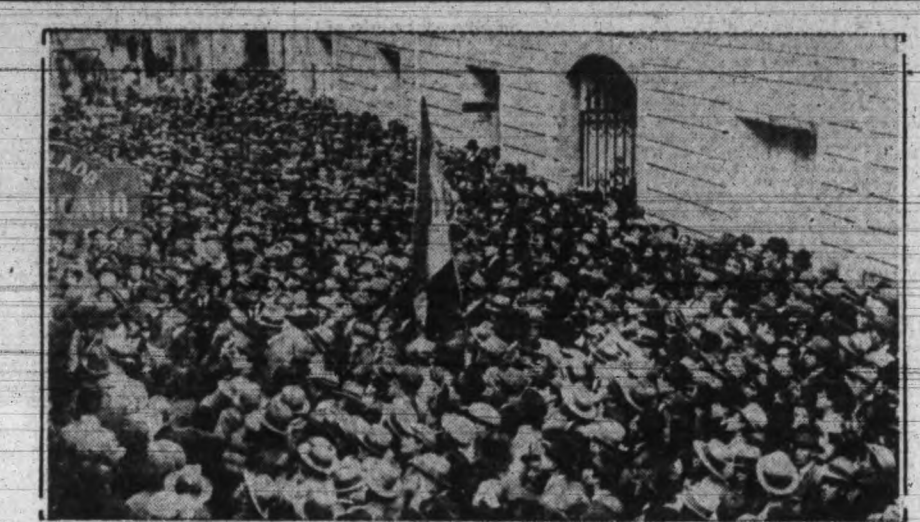

The point has been taken in connection with the Emergency Employment Campaign, some persons claiming that if they spend a few hundred dollars on brightening up their homes it would react on them through an assessment increase.

Mr. Okell flatly refused this suggestion.

"The assessment of Victoria is now on an equitable basis as far as the improvements are concerned," he pointed out. "When we changed from the single tax plan, there was something of this sort done to lay the foundation, but the general trend in assessments now is downward, not upward."

Placing of cement sidewalk, planting of shrubbery, laying of new lawns and improvements are concerned which can be made to enhance the looks of a dwelling may be done without any fear of an increase in the assessment, he pointed out.

"Almost Persuaded," Says Bowser Emerging From Long Retirement

Thousands Turn Out to Greet Ex-Premier at Citizens "Save B.C." Inaugural Gathering at Chamber of Commerce

"Something Has to Be Done" All Speakers Agree, But Old Leader Defers Final Answer Until Vancouver Meetings Next Friday

Before an audience of more than 1,000 jammed in the Chamber of Commerce and with an announced 3,000 more turned away outside, Ex-Premier W. J. Bowser came out of his seven years' retirement yesterday evening in response to a non-partisan demand of citizens that he should place his experience and courage at the service of the country to cope with the crisis that has developed and overtaken British Columbia under the present political control.

The old leader spoke only briefly, saying that he would have to defer his answer as to leading a non-party movement until after he had met next Friday evening in Vancouver the voters of his old constituency who had sent him as their representative to the Legislature.

"But," he added, stirred by the enthusiasm of the demonstration towards him, "in the words of the scripture, 'Almost thou hast persuaded me!'"

JEHOL FORCES STATED FLEEING

Leaders of Invading Japanese Army Say Chinese Forces in Province Have Collapsed

By James A. Mills, Associated Press Correspondent
Chinehwa, Manchuria, March 3.—A picture of utter collapse of what is left of China's hold on Jehol province, with its troops retreating and leaders fleeing, was brought today to this Japanese headquarters in military and press dispatches.

Maj-Gen. Tadaaki Kawahara, continuing the Japanese advance on Jehol city after capturing Pinghuang, only sixty miles eastward, this morning, asserted the capital's fall was only a matter of hours.

Despite a blizzard, his troops relentlessly continued their drive while Japanese reports said Chinese troops in Jehol city had mutilated and the city was in chaos.

GOVERNOR MISSING

General Tang Yu-lin, governor of Jehol, is missing and Chang Tuo-Huang and Wan Fu-lin, sent to Jehol by Marshall Chiang Kai-shek, north China war lord, to command the defense, suddenly departed for Peiping in defiance of orders, these reports said.

Despite the snow, two Japanese airplanes were reported to have scouted the capital and confirmed reports that troops were pouring through the city, many heading for the passes in the Great Wall to China proper.

HALF U.S. HAS BANK HOLIDAY

Action of Some Sort to Ease Situation Taken in Twenty-six States

Washington, March 3.—Twenty-six states in the United States have now taken protective steps of one sort or another in regard to banks and their deposits.

Action ranges from holidays, mandatory or optional, to legislation giving banks power to limit withdrawals of their funds if necessary.

Such action was taken yesterday or early today in eleven states—Texas, Washington, State, Oregon, Idaho, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Wisconsin, Georgia, New Mexico and North Carolina.

In Washington the situation was receiving close attention.

Chairman of the Senate Banking Committee today notified members of the United States House of Representatives that he was ready to meet at a moment's notice to consider important but unspecified legislation.

BRITISH WATCH BENNETT'S TRIP

London Paper Says Premier Will Visit United States to Negotiate Trade Treaty

Canadian Press
London, March 3.—According to The London News-Chronicle, Liberal, the British government has learned with "astonishment and no little dismay" that Premier Bennett of Canada is on the point of leaving on an "unofficial" tour, if not secret, personal visit, to Washington to discuss a far-reaching trade pact with the United States.

The newspaper says Mr. Bennett plans to discuss with President-elect Franklin D. Roosevelt and the new United States Secretary of State details of the proposed treaty.

"It appears evident," it continues, "Mr. Bennett's intention is to get in before the arrival of Prime Minister MacDonald and the United Kingdom delegation on their return from Washington."

In a dispatch from its Ottawa correspondent The News-Chronicle says it learned on the "highest authority," which it does not name, a tentative date has been set around Easter for Mr. Bennett's visit to Washington.

"Apparently to visit his sister," Mrs. W. D. Herridge, wife of the Canadian Minister to the United States.

EARTHQUAKE IN THE PHILIPPINES

Associated Press
Manila, March 3.—An earthquake shook Manila and the rest of Luzon Island at 10:30 a.m. today but no damage was reported.

QUAKE DEATHS TOTAL OVER 1,500

Those Injured Along Coast of Japan Said to Number More Than 3,000; Many Towns Suffer Losses

Canadian Press and Associated Press
Tokyo, March 3.—More than 1,500 persons are known to have been killed in the earthquake, tidal wave and fire which devastated a section of the northeastern seaboard of Honshu Island, largest of the Japanese archipelago, early this morning.

The full extent of the casualties had not been determined at 11 o'clock tonight, but the governor of the province of Iwate, which suffered most heavily, reported 1,119 lives had been lost in Iwate alone, mostly north of Miyako. A seacoast town 300 miles northwest of Tokyo.

At the night word on and reports continued to arrive, the number of injured rose to 3,038 and the number of missing to 948.

MANY HOMES DESTROYED

Reports from the provinces most seriously affected said 7,840 houses had been destroyed by the earthquake and the tidal wave and fire which followed. The tidal wave carried to sea or destroyed 1,570 small boats.

WORSE THAN 1923 QUAKE

The director-general of Tokyo's central meteorological observatory believed the earthquake was worse at its epicentre than the 1923 earthquake, which caused the destruction of Yokohama and the deaths of more than 140,000 persons.

The epicentre of the quake, which occurred at 2:32 a.m. and lasted upward of ten minutes, was 125 miles southeast of Kinkasan Cape, which is destroyed by the quake, which followed in from forty minutes to a little more than an hour later, reports along the coast said.

It is the same region where a tidal wave in 1896 took 30,000 lives. Scores of towns were submerged in today's disaster. Communication was shut off with a large section, preventing reports being made for the time being.

Only slight was caused in Tokyo and the southern part of Honshu, the main island. A 300-mile stretch of northern Honshu, all the way to the northern tip of Cape Shijiri, was left in ruins. The quake and tidal wave also struck twenty miles farther north, on the coast of Hokkaido or Yeso Island, but excessive damage was not reported there.

Fires caused by the quake were left to sweep unchecked as many people fled in the darkness to hills, but hundreds of their neighbors and relatives, falling to remember the historic warnings, waited too long to save belongings and were killed or injured.

The wave was estimated at various points to have been from four to ten feet high.

Ten destroyers from Yokosuka and Ominato and four seaplanes from Katsunagawa were heading up the eastern coast today to bring relief to the injured and homeless.

Practically every town on the coast of Iwate prefecture, aside from those with which there was no communication, was in a state of confusion.

Undergraduates Would Not Fight For Country; Randolph Churchill Shouted Down

Associated Press
Oxford, Eng., March 3.—In an atmosphere tainted by stench bombs and tumultuous with the shouts of undergraduates, the Oxford Union yesterday evening reaffirmed its position of three weeks ago and rejected by 250 to 138 a motion to expunge from the records its previous motion: "That this house will in no circumstances fight for its King and country."

Police were posted in the packed house as orators argued the motion, which drew fire from the London press and from members of the House of Commons when it was adopted two weeks ago by a vote of 278 to 153.

CHURCHILL HECKLED
Randolph Churchill, son of Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, was one of the leaders in the fight to expunge the motion. He was greeted with loud shouts and then the hall was filled with the odor of stench bombs. It was ten minutes before he could proceed.

"If you wish to show any resentment against me you can chuck me in the Cherwell afterward," he said. "There were cries of 'We will.' The threat was not carried out, however, as a bodyguard of members of the Oxford University Conservative Association escorted him to his hotel."

Opens Trading at 84 Cents and Is Dealt in at 86 Cents As Day's Session Ends

Much U.S. Money Comes to Canada

Canadian Press
New York, March 3.—Surging upward to register the greatest gain scored in any single day for months, the Canadian dollar closed this afternoon at 86 cents in the United States funds on the local foreign exchange market.

This was the highest point the Dominion's currency has attained on the New York market since last September.

The dollar opened nervously at 84 cents, down 1/4 per cent from the previous close.

Canadian banking representatives attributed the rise to a flow of United States funds to Canada, evidently reflecting confidence in the Canadian banking system, which has been singularly free from difficulties in the last generation.

The pound sterling was also strong, moving up from its opening quotation of $3.45 to $3.46, which was higher than yesterday's close and high. It closed at $3.45.

Exchange rates at noon today as quoted by the Canadian Press were: Pound sterling in Montreal, $4.05; U.S. dollar in Montreal, $1.17 1/2.

Gen. Smuts, leader of the South African Party, and Premier Hertzog reached an agreement a few days ago to form a National Government and call a general election for July.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Joe H. Gill, Miami society woman, also critically wounded by Dr. Zangbar, remained in a serious condition as a result of an infection of the wound she received in her abdomen.

bill by Senator Gore, Democrat, Oklahoma. Senator Robinson, Kansas, after conferring with President-Elect Roosevelt at the head of a delegation of Democratic senators, said "a definite statement on the banking situation and other matters will be forthcoming in the near future."

PROTECTIVE ACTION

In the great money centres of New York and Chicago, as well as in other sections, banking business went on untroubled by difficulties elsewhere. In many of the states where holidays were declared or restrictive action taken, officials said their banks were sound, but must be protected against withdrawals and repercussions from other sections.

There was a growing belief the situation in Michigan, which saw the start of the restrictive movement February 14 with a holiday, would reach a solution in the opening of closed banks next week. Senator James Couzens said "constructive legislation seems to have been agreed on," and an emergency measure was drafted at the state capital. Many banks were operating under a 5 per cent withdrawal restriction.

NO STATEMENT

After a conference with his administration's financial leaders, President Hoover today authorized a contradiction of reports he intended to issue before nightfall a statement relative to banking and business conditions.

NATIONAL PROGRAMME

Detroit, March 3.—Senator James Couzens, who came here this week to aid in unravelling the Michigan banking situation, today said he had been advised the United States Reconstruction Finance Corporation has undertaken a national programme to deal with banking difficulties.

CHEQUE SCHEME

Washington, March 3.—To meet the banking situation, Senator Dill, Republican, Washington, introduced in the Senate today legislation authorizing the government's postal savings system to carry chequing accounts.

WASHINGTON STATE

Olympia, Wash., March 3.—Most of the Washington State banks were closed today for a three-day holiday proclaimed by Governor Martin yesterday evening. Leaders of the industry have promised to work for the "speedy resumption of normal business."

DESPITE CLOSING OF MOST OF THE BANKS

including those of Seattle and Tacoma, the Spokane and Eastern Trust Company and the Security State Bank, both of Spokane, and banks in Walla Walla County continued business today as usual.

Their officers said they would not take advantage of the holiday because of a "strong liquid and cash position and large resources and funds available."

The consensus of legal opinion in the state is that the holiday is not mandatory and is intended only to "provide a breathing spell."

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

came after the legislature had rushed through an enabling act, on top of a previous bank stabilization law of the state.

ASK MAYOR BE OUSTED

Six Vancouver Ratepayers Want Taylor Declared Disqualified

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 3.—Six ratepayers commenced proceedings in the B.C. Supreme Court today to disqualify Mayor Louis D. Taylor from holding office. A copy of the petition was served on the mayor. The return date is March 11.

The proceedings are based on section 21 of the Vancouver Incorporation Act, dealing with omission of a mayor to resign within ten days after receiving notice of disqualification.

Notice of disqualification was given February 20 by solicitors for Col. C. E. Edgett, dismissed chief of police. The notice alleged the mayor was disqualified by reason of the registration on February 20 of Hans Hansen's nineteen-year-old $1,078 judgment against 191 Hastings Township, of which Mr. Taylor is owner. The assessment value is $1,250. The mayor is required to own property to the value of $1,000, clear of encumbrances.

WANT ELECTION

Today's petitioners ask a Supreme Court judge to rule Mayor Taylor is disqualified and to order a new election. Whether Hans Hansen was entitled to register his judgment, or whether the mayor had obtained release barring registration, will be determined in the action.

In the meantime Mayor Taylor has commenced proceedings against Registrar A. G. Smith of the Land Titles Office, Vancouver, for a declaration that his 191 is unencumbered. Hearing of this been fixed for March 13.

THE PETITIONERS

The ratepayers in today's action, described as electors in the petition filed at the courthouse by their solicitor, A. J. Kappeler, are: Samuel Githens, publisher, 163 West Hastings Street; Daniel J. Snell, jeweler, 2648 Tripp Street; Battista Nicola, hostling engineer, 1336 Francis Street; Angelo Ernest Francis, barrister, 2559 Cambridge Street; Walter Herman Shinnick, barrister, Vancouver; William Tweedie, salesman, 3408 West Eighth Avenue.

ARMY BILL IS BEFORE M.P.'S

New Canadian Regulations Grow Out of Statute of Westminster

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 3.—Bringing Canadian legislation dealing with the administration and discipline of the Canadian army forces into line with the conditions which have developed out of the Statute of Westminster, Premier Bennett yesterday introduced in the Commons a bill whose purpose was to remove the military forces of Canada from the application to them of the Army Annual Act of the United Kingdom.

The bill was given first reading. Under section 69 of the Militia Act, the Canadian forces have been administered under certain provisions of the Army Annual Act, a statute passed from year to year by the British Parliament. The purpose of this annual act has been twofold. It continued in existence the British army, and it vested control of the army in Parliament, in which lay the sole power to vote money for its maintenance.

With the adoption by the Parliament of the United Kingdom of the Statute of Westminster, however, no enactments of the British Parliament have any further application to Canada. Consequently, an explanatory note to the bill says: "Any such annual act, passed subsequent to the coming into force of the Statute of Westminster, no longer has the force of law in Canada, and it is necessary to base the discipline and internal administration of such forces on Canadian legislation."

DISCIPLINE

The bill introduced yesterday makes the necessary provision with respect to the discipline of the Canadian forces of His Majesty from other parts of the British Commonwealth or from a colony when visiting the Dominion of Canada, and with respect to the exercise of command and discipline when forces of His Majesty from different parts of the Commonwealth are serving together.

With regard to naval matters, the bill explains the discipline of the Canadian navy will be continued, but it will always be open to the Parliament of Canada to bring the naval forces solely within the operation of the first four sections of the act, upon the enactment of new legislation to provide for their organization.

Premier Bennett explained similar legislation was being introduced in the other Dominions.

MOURN DEATH OF SENATOR

Official Washington Bows in Tribute to Memory of Late Thomas J. Walsh

Washington, March 3.—Official Washington today bowed in tribute to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, and the widow—bride of last week—Senora Mina Perez Chaumont Walsh of Cuba.

While high and low of the city and nation called to express condolences to Mrs. Walsh, members of the family were undecided whether there should be a funeral at Washington or in the Chamber in which he served upward of twenty years.

Mrs. Walsh, under a physician's care, rested with her grief at the apartment the senator occupied for many years in the capital.

Congressional leaders were among the first to extend their sympathy. President-elect and Mrs. Roosevelt fixed the hour of noon to add their tribute by a personal call on the widow.

Today the body rested amid great banks of floral tributes, while messages of condolence poured in.

MANHUNT FOR DENVER GANG

Sheriff's Search For Boettcher Abductors' Hideout Leads to Wyoming

Associated Press
Denver, March 3.—A determined manhunt for the men who abducted Sheriff George J. Carroll left Cheyenne on a secret trip Denver police hoped would lead to the hideout of the men who eluded officers after releasing the thirty-one-year-old broker following payment of $50,000 ransom Wednesday evening.

Boettcher told police he could not say definitely where he had been held during his more than two weeks' captivity, but he believed he had been taken into Wyoming.

Police attached additional significance to the Wyoming hideout theory when they learned one of the ransom notes addressed to Claude K. Boettcher, the abducted man's millionaire father, had been mailed from Cheyenne.

SHAVED BY GANG

"Where I was held and by whom I do not know. It appeared to be the basement of some house eighteen hours by fast automobile from Denver," he said in an interview.

"About 11 p.m. on February 12, my wife and I had just returned home and I started to drive into the garage and find my car in a small sedan drove up."

"Both men were armed. They put me in their car and started to drive. I saw a man in the back seat with a gun."

"He immediately put a strip of adhesive tape over my eyes and another piece over my head to hold my first teeth. They also roped my wrists. See the marks?"

BOY TO FACE BOMB CHARGE

Youth of Fourteen Will Be Arrested For Mailing Bomb to Roosevelt, Police State

Watertown, N.Y., March 3.—A fourteen-year-old American-born son of foreign parents, will be arrested, according to Chief of Police Edward J. Singleton, and charged with sending explosives through the mail intended for President-elect Franklin Roosevelt, if handwriting on that package proves to be the same as that in a threatening letter the chief received February 1.

The boy, not under arrest now, the chief explained, was being kept under surveillance pending this latest step in the investigation of the mailing of a crude shot shell bomb bearing the United States President-elect's address.

Text of the letter addressed to the chief follows: "Chief Singleton: Sir, I am a friend of Zaigera and I want to take up work that he failed to do. I kill all presidents, governors and millionaires."

Ottawa, March 3.—Canada in 1932 occupied fourth place among the nations with her products in the British market.

Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, today said: "The rapid advance we have made in the British market is most encouraging. Calgary Is To Have New Federal Riding

Reported Commons Redistribution Committee Will Recommend South Calgary Constituency Be Created

Canadian Press
Calgary, March 3.—If the Commons approves the findings of its redistribution committee a new federal constituency—South Calgary—will be created, according to information in political circles.

The constituency of South Calgary will be formed and the riding of Bow River, represented by E. J. Carland, U.F.A., will disappear. It is stated, Calgary East will be extended to include most of Bow River.

Minor changes in Calgary West are forecast also. That is Premier Bennett's constituency.

Lethbridge, it is understood, will lose one of its townships across its northern boundary to the Macleod constituency. If the findings are approved, Medicine Hat will obtain a row of townships from Lethbridge's eastern boundary, but will lose five townships south of the Bow River to the Macleod constituency.

While the riding will be extended to include the towns of Bassano, Rimbey, Chumley and Glenora, now part of the Bow River riding, while Macleod also will gain the part of Bow River, including the towns of Vulcan, Champion, Carmangay, Lacombe, Travers and Retlaw.

pression with the view of taking any steps possible to prevent a recurrence. The majority of the people had not received justice and fair wages under the present system with the result the capitalist system was discredited. The eyes of the working people and they were ready to turn to any other system that presented prospects of improvement. Realization of abuses and injustices which they had suffered had driven them to communism and socialism. These did not offer the solution, the speaker claimed, arguing the whole capitalist and economic system must be revised. If the present economic system was to place its house in order and properly recognize its co-partner, labor, a better social order would be established throughout the world. Any change must provide not only that labor could meet living costs but should be sufficient to provide for a reserve for lean years.

ORGANIZE INDUSTRY
Each industry should be organized for the benefit of the employer and employee and consequent benefits of the community. Better wages would mean greater purchasing power and fewer calls upon the public treasury. The speaker had come when governments must pay attention to these things with the object of avoiding a recurrence of such conditions as exist today.

Present methods of handling unemployment were deplored as inadequate. Despite the protestations of the Minister of Public Works there had been extravagance in the construction of camps. He also deplored the unsatisfactory situation of the idle men in camps doing nothing when they wished to go to work.

Criticism of salary cuts was voiced by Dr. Gillis.

"It was the very thing that should not be done," he said, "as unemployment power is recreated there is no chance of a return to normal conditions. There is just as much money as ever there was. If a war was declared it would be forthcoming and

Two Men Commit Hari-kari in Tokio

Associated Press
Tokyo, March 3.—Two men, members of a reactionary society, committed suicide by the traditional hari-kari method today, one outside the Premier's residence and the other outside the War Ministry, as a protest against what they regarded as the government's failure to deal adequately with the fiscal situation of the tax evasions by industrialists.

Several members of the same society recently went on a protracted fast in protesting the affair.

To End Crop Price Stabilization Scheme

Associated Press
Washington, March 3.—Henry Morgenthau Jr., chairman of the United Farm Board, announced today his first objective on assuming office next Monday would be to "take the stabilization scheme out of the stabilization business."

He plans to overhaul government agricultural credit activities, getting an organization of four divisions with responsibility of each centered in one individual.

The present Farm Board, set up with its functions in making loans to farm co-operatives is to be centered in one division under a man to be appointed by the President, who will replace the membership of the present board.

The reorganization, soon to be effected, necessitates resignation of six board members: G. B. Deamond of Missouri, Carl Williams of Oklahoma, William P. Schilling of Minnesota, Charles S. Wilson of New York, Sam H. Thompson of Illinois and Frank Evans of Utah.

JUDGE ARGUES AT GREAT LENGTH

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, March 3.—Attempting to "justify" anything he said or done, Judge Lewis St. George Stubbs today continued his final plea before Mr. Justice Frank Ford, federal commissioner conducting an investigation into the judge's judicial conduct.

Not until the next week could he possibly consider his argument, the judge said. Though he had condensed his arguments considerably, it would be two or three more days before he could deal with facts of the evidence, he said.

"I am accused of being a crank and fool because I happen to have the mind of a reformer and a reforming turn," the judge began, "and because the reactionary forces cannot stand a mind which thinks differently from the common herd. They have attempted to control my will, but they can't do it, so they strip me naked."

Plan Farm Debt Relief in Alberta

Canadian Press
Edmonton, March 3.—Providing for the appointment of an appeal body to be known as a board of review, and making farmers' harvesting costs, taxes and other expenses payable by the government bill to amend and consolidate the Debt Adjustment Act has been distributed to members of the Alberta Legislature.

The bill is looked on as one of the most important to be considered this season, owing to demands from many quarters for drastic effort to give relief to farm debtors if no moratorium is to be brought into effect.

SINGLE MEN NEED HELP

Municipal Union Takes Up Case of Men Who Do Not Go to Camp

The case of single unemployed men who refuse to go to camps was taken up by the Union of B.C. Municipalities yesterday afternoon and it was decided to ask the government to take care of them.

Mayor Leeming explained the position of men who are cut off relief because they will not go to camps. "It is no crime not to go to camp. Nor is it a crime to be out of work these days. What are we to do with these men? Put them in jail as vagrants? That would only be a re-arresting process which would not help anyone. There is no work for the men."

at the camps, which are nothing but a mental death for them," he said.

The resolution passed by the union set out that when the men did not go to camp, they became a charge on the municipality which was compelled to provide for the poor and destitute. In this way the charge for their maintenance fell upon the municipality instead of the government whose responsibility they were.

Financing Firms Under Discussion

Many financing houses to which persons are sometimes forced to go were a disgrace and should not be allowed, L. A. Haines, Liberal, Alberni, said in the Legislature yesterday during second reading of an amendment to a section of the Bills of Sale Act relating to automobile registration.

The amendment meant more registration and more fees. It was evidently drafted for the benefit of financial firms who were well able to take care of themselves, Mr. Haines said. People who were obliged to go to them were forced to pay through the nose and he thought the financing firms merited little sympathy.

The bill was given second reading as was also a bill amending the Conditional Sales Act along similar lines.

Relief Efforts Are Debated In Commons

Two Liberals, Two Labor Members and Alberta Farm Member Share in Discus- sion in Ottawa House

Ottawa, March 3.—The Commons spent part of yesterday afternoon and all of the evening sitting in discussion of the unemployment relief measure. Parliament last year extended for a further twelve months the powers it had given the government to deal with unemployment relief, and yesterday's debate was around a resolution introduced by Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, asking for an extension for another year—till March, 1934.

LAND PLANS

J. A. Bradette, Liberal, North Temiskaming, Ont., spoke of the plan of settling urban dwellers on the land. The government had already done a great deal of this work, but much had been found unsatisfactory. Mr. Bradette did not see any value in settling lands beyond the months of April and May, since the spring was the proper period of the year in which to carry out this policy.

NOT ALWAYS RIGHT

Angus Macdonald, Labor member for Vancouver, South, attacked the back-to-the-land movement.

"It has approval of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada," the Minister of Labor interjected.

"That may be so," retorted the Labor member, "but it does not necessarily follow that everything the Trades and Labor Congress approves must be right. I take the liberty of differing from the congress any time I feel like doing so."

HEAPS SPEAKS

A. A. Heaps, Labor, Winnipeg North, demanded a definite plan for the solution of the unemployment problem. He had no confidence in the application of tariffs.

Discussing the speech made last Monday by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, in which he laid down fourteen points of the Liberal Party program for economic revival, Mr. Heaps said Mr. King had unfurled the "flag of Gladstonian Liberalism." Mr. Heaps wondered if it would be acceptable to the majority of his followers.

As to a central bank, the Liberal leader had not been explicit enough, Mr. Heaps declared. "Was it to be a central bank owned by the government or one owned by the other banks? One owned by the other banks would be of no help."

Unemployment insurance, supported by Mr. King, had been advocated by himself for many years, Mr. Heaps said. He was in favor of it, but it would not meet the present unemployment situation. There were at present 750,000 people unemployed in Canada. At $7.50 a week and forty weeks a year it would cost $225,000,000 a year, and where could the government get that amount?

He held no false hope. A more equitable redistribution of wealth was really wanted, although he would continue to support unemployment insurance.

He hoped the present Liberal platform included only the good principles of the Gladstonian era.

Referring to Mr. King's charge the supporters of the Canadian Co-operative Commonwealth had taken advantage of conditions, Mr. Heaps said it was only natural. History had shown, he said, new movements were always born of unrest. The C.C.F. had nothing to do with creating the conditions, but had been created because of conditions.

Tariffs were not at the root of the situation, he said. Countries with low tariffs and practically free trade were in the same position in regard to unemployment as Canada. Unemployment must be considered in a more fundamental way. Seven of Mr. King's fourteen points were about tariffs, he said.

SHORTER HOURS

Mr. Heaps's suggestions to meet the situation were to give all the unemployed jobs by reducing the hours of labor to thirty a week and increasing purchasing power by giving the producer a greater portion of the value of the product of his labor. At present on an average he received only 20 per cent.

Industry should be regulated to keep the production in line with consumption, said Mr. Heaps. The railway situation was to be regulated by the government and industry also should be regulated.

LUCHKOVICH SPEAKS

M. Luchkovich, U.F.A., Vegreville, stated that in so far as the government intended to continue its present policy of economic revival, he was not pleased with the economy proposed by the government for the new year.

"While he agreed the trouble from which Canada was suffering was of a world nature, and that the Great War was very largely responsible for them, he felt that 'this present harsh, avaricious system must give way to some system of co-operation before we will solve this cancer of unemployment.'"

There was no doubt in his mind, said Mr. Luchkovich, that if present conditions continued, class socialism in some form would be submitted for the present capitalist system within the next decade.

IN QUEBEC

J. P. Pouliot, Liberal, Temiscouata, painted a distressing picture of the back-to-the-land movement in Quebec. Groups of families on their way to live together like swine in one shack," he said. They had been placed on lots far from roads and others were in such circumstances that in his constituency they had been forced to eat grass.

The management of the back-to-the-land movement was not in experienced hands in many instances, Mr. Pouliot declared. He believed the scheme should be turned over to the Trappist Friars, the Freres de St. Viateur and the Oblate Fathers to carry out. They were skilled in colonization, he said.

"I have nothing whatever to do with it," said the Minister of Labor, to whom Mr. Pouliot directed his remarks. "It is a matter for the province of Quebec. I had until now a very high regard for the officials who had charge of this movement." He said he was amazed at Mr. Pouliot's statements.

GOVERNOR AIDS CHURCH FUNDS

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 3.—The Governor-General has consented to act as patron of the restoration fund appeal of the Church of England in Canada, according to an announcement made at church headquarters here.

In the campaign, which will end late in April, it is hoped to raise $1,081,000 for the purpose of replacing the lost endowments of the ecclesiastical diocese of Rupert's Land and to provide a sustentation fund to alleviate financial conditions existing in a number of dioceses in other parts of the Dominion.

ISLAND POET WINS PRAISE

Miss Audrey Brown Warmly Lauded By Dr. W. L. Mac- Donald in Lecture Here

Difficulties in a comparatively young country of finding the strong, natural cultural background for poetry of high merit, were outlined by Prof. W. L. MacDonald, M.A., Ph.D., in an interesting address on "Canadian Poetry" before members of the University Extension Association at Victoria College yesterday evening.

In Canada the spirit of "Jingoism," as shown in such work as "The Maple Leaf," was gradually disappearing and giving place to work of a superior note. He was warm in his praise of the work of Miss Audrey Brown, young poetess of Nanaimo, comparing some of her verse to that of Keats and Browning and commenting in some detail on one of her longer poems, "Lacandonia."

Showing the difference between national poetry in Canada and in other lands, he noted the French national anthem had been inspired by a great physical upheaval in the country, while even the United States anthem was prompted by a similar event. Canada had had no such stirring time to lend inspiration to "O Canada," he remarked.

LITTLE WAR INFLUENCE

Even the Great War had failed to stir Canada as it had Britain. Dr. MacDonald traced the stark, ugly realism of the British poets of the post-war type, but the trend had failed to extend to this country.

He spoke of the depth of old world poetry, finding much of its strength in the love of the soil. Canada, a comparatively new land, could not be expected to furnish much work of this type, but the trend was gradually towards it, he continued.

Closing, he expressed the hope his remarks would lead the gathering to a study of the work already done in Canada.

CARIBOO GOLD IN SPOTLIGHT

One Bright Spot in Province, Says Member For District

Cariboo was the one bright spot on the map of British Columbia, R. B. MacKenzie, member for that district, told the Legislature yesterday, but the trouble was that the people of New York knew more of its gold possibilities than did the people of Vancouver.

He gave the members some account of the gold development that has been going on, congratulating the Cariboo Gold Quartz Co. on the success it had attained in times of stress, and warned green prospectors that this was not a good time of year to go into the country. He said there were no relief cases around Barkerville or in the Chilcotin and any man willing to rough it a bit could scour out a living.

All this was by way of suggesting that if the Minister of Finance wanted to live up to his reputation of being the "biggest little man in B.C.," he must learn to say "Yes" as well as "No" at the right time. The time to say "Yes," he said, was when the Cariboo asked for such investment in its roads as would permit the safe transportation of mine machinery. The government must be prepared to spend money that will enable mines or other industries to start up and employ labor.

INFLATION ADVOCATED

Must Be on Safe Basis Backed By Commodities, Says Member of Legislature

Operators Profits Limiting Coal Market, He Asserts

An issue of currency by the Dominion Government secured by commodities was advocated by J. Loulet, Conservative, North Vancouver, in his speech on the debate on the speech from the Throne yesterday.

The producers of suitable commodities should be requested to submit to the Dominion Government, he said, the number of men they could employ, the rate of wages proposed to be paid and the estimated cost of the manufactured commodity. Such cost should not include meantime any profit or other expense than labor and material. From the special issue of currency loans to industry would be made. The loan would be paid by the industry when it had sold the goods and the government would then retire that amount of currency from circulation.

Great care should be exercised in any form of inflation. Danger existed in many schemes offered and the problem would be how to control it. Touching upon possible dangers of inflation, the speaker said, the danger of exploitation would be removed if the issues were backed with commodities.

LOWER INTEREST RATES

No municipality in British Columbia should be permitted to secure money outside of Canada, he claimed, pointing out that not only had the high rate of interest to be paid but a twenty per cent premium on Canadian money. A person could buy a bond of the City of Victoria in Victoria, for instance, and collect these premiums by placing it through a U.S. bank.

Mr. Loulet advocated the Dominion Government make an inquiry into the capital structure of all public companies with a view to forcing the elimination of watered stocks and bonds and prevent the exploitation of labor and the consumer in an attempt to pay interest on false capitalization.

He was in favor of a revision of the tariff to ensure that protection is based upon the actual capital invested in the industry and not upon inflated capital.

Mr. Loulet believed if Vancouver Island mines were on a fair capital basis and content with a fair profit they could sell coal at a price that would corner the market.

English coal was imported and sold at the same price as Vancouver Island coal. This was not due to freight rates, or high wages; it was a result of over-head expenses through over-capitalized companies. Vancouver Island coal could sell profitably at $4, he thought.

Mr. Loulet claimed tariffs were injuring trade. They were too high and too uncertain, he said. With dumping duties involved an importer did not know what duty he would have to pay when his goods arrived or if he would have money to pay for them.

GIVES ADDRESS ON MANCHURIA

Major H. Nation Describes Land to Revellers at Dinner Gathering

Various features of Manchuria and the Jehol area were described to members of the Revellers Club by Major H. Nation in an address before the young clubmen at their meeting Wednesday evening.

His discourse was based upon his personal knowledge of the district as it existed in 1908, when he was in that country.

At that time, Major Nation said, the major power in Manchuria was questionable. The population was chiefly made up of Japanese, Russians and Chinese, with the actual Manchus being only about 10 per cent of the total.

He described territorial boundaries and strategic points. During his sojourn there, he had found all national representations levied taxes. To the first collector the fees were paid, he added.

Major Nation described the lumber, mineral and agricultural wealth of the country, remarking on the importance of the soy bean, grown there, and the rich gold deposits, as well as oil. He spoke of the industries that were pursued on a limited scale, noting they were mainly agricultural.

During the lecture he described several fine sides of scenes on the trans-Siberian Railway.

G. G. Edmondson presided. The club decided to hold its fifth annual dinner on March 24.

lin to make settlement, said yesterday evening it would entail disbursements of $5,000,000 by the Free State, half approximately in cash, the rest in Free State securities. Connolly said his mission was for such settlement only and involved in no way any new loan. The ace of clubs, in card games, is often called "the puppyfoot."

RUMORS OF ANTI-JEWISH POGROM STILL PERSIST

What justification there is for the rumors that a massacre of Jews is imminent in Germany is a matter about which there has been considerable speculation during the last few days. On Wednesday night police raided the quarters of the Jewish Citizens' Central Union and this organization issued a statement yesterday declaring that the documents seized in the raid merely had to do with the campaign against anti-Semitism and were always available to the public.

It is only natural that the Jewish population of Germany, now numbering something like 600,000, should take such measures as may be necessary to learn of any plots that may be launched against them and to counter them with efforts to show why they have as much right to be left in peace as the rest of the people. They have not forgotten the part of the Hitler programme which provides that "the Jews are to be deprived of their citizenship and receive the status of aliens," that "no Jew will be permitted to hold a government or municipal post," that "since the state must make its primary concern the livelihood of its citizens, should there be insufficient food, the Jews will be expelled," that "all Jews who entered Germany after 1914 are to be expelled at once (about 100,000)," that "Jews are to be prohibited from editing or collaborating on newspapers," that "the freedom of Christian religions is to be safeguarded, but the Jewish religion is to be combated on the ground that it is materialistic," and, finally, that "all Jewish land holdings and town properties are to be confiscated."

It is true Chancellor Hitler in the last few months has pitched any references made to his last year's platform in a minor key; but the rumor of an anti-Jewish pogrom has persisted for several days. The London Daily Herald claims it has reliable information that something of the kind is afoot, while The London Times, in an obviously guarded reference, but evidently in possession of information from its own sources, says "the threat of a general massacre can not be treated so lightly now that the Prussian police have been reinforced by Nazi bands."

There is very little likelihood that Chancellor Hitler will put himself outside the pale of civilization by ordering a massacre of any part of Germany's Jewish population; but there is unquestionably an uncontrollable element among his followers—his "storm troops," for instance, now fully armed—which might, in the excitement of polling day, start something that would probably be difficult to curb.

PREMIER TOLMIE AS AN ARCHAEOLOGIST

Premier Tolmie's reference to Better Terms in his speech in the House a few days ago stamps him as something of an archaeologist. It reminds us of the industrious scientific collectors who for generations have been digging into the tombs of Nineveh, Babylon and Luxor, not to forget the last resting-place of our old friend, King Tut, for relics which were interred in those classic ruins thousands of years ago. In that category does the issue of Better Terms belong; its mummified remains have been so long interred in British Columbia's political graveyard that the only sound purpose for resurrecting them would be to have them exhibited in the provincial museum.

Better Terms, or a demand for the readjustment of the financial relations between the Dominion and this province, was one of Sir Richard McBride's pet political infants. Sir Richard made a first-class party issue out of it when Sir Wilfrid Laurier was in office at Ottawa. He won one provincial election on it and influenced the result of the federal election in 1908, as far as British Columbia was concerned, against the Liberals.

When the Conservatives, under the leadership of Sir Robert Borden, assumed office at Ottawa in 1911, the British Columbia government put the soft pedal on this agitation. It could not throw the issue overboard altogether, since Sir Robert Borden, when in opposition, had declared that if he were returned he would authorize the appointment of a commission to inquire into the matter. The issue dragged along for several years, with casual references to it in the local Legislature, and finally a commission was authorized, but nothing further was done. The outbreak of the Great War was blamed for putting the quietus on Better Terms, but, as a matter of fact, a Conservative government in British Columbia had lost its enthusiasm for embarrassing a government at Ottawa which now was no longer Liberal in politics.

So the issue was quietly interred, with few mourners. There is about as much chance of making it an object of practical politics now as there would be of carrying the province on the Einstein Theory. It would not get even to first base. Hence, its chief pertinence would be on the programme of an historical society rather than in any discussion on the floor of the Legislature.

CANADA'S HOME OWNERS THE BULWARK AGAINST COMMUNISM

One of the international news feature services numbers among its variety what is known as "Three Guesses." A recent triple test of knowledge showed the picture of a penitentiary, a flag, and an attractive bungalow. We are interested in the bungalow because the question was: "What country has the largest percentage of home owners?" The answer read: "Seventy per cent of the population of Canada live in their own homes."

It seems an opportune time to mention that so many Canadians have such a substantial stake in their own country. Only recently in the House of Commons at Ottawa, the Minister of Justice, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, almost tried to make out that Canada was menaced by gentlemen who paraded in the open or in dark corners and talked about Soviet Russia as if it were the Promised Land. He was fearful for the welfare of the Dominion. Unless Section Ninety-Eight of the Criminal Code could remain in force, the minister was not able to see anything but "red" or multi-colored revolution ahead of us. This section, by the way, gives the authorities almost unlimited powers to deal with what may be considered unlawful assembly. That is to say, anybody who calls the government, nasty names is liable to be deported—provided he was not born in Canada.

A considerable section of the press of Canada, irrespective of political affiliation, thinks Mr. Guthrie overdid his case and that there is no necessity for the retention of the provision any longer. The House of Commons, indeed, on several occasions has voted for its removal; but each time the Senate has defeated the will of the lower chamber. We emphasize the fact that any country with seventy per cent of its population living in their own homes has a sufficient guarantee that its institutions are in no danger of impairment by imported experiments of doubtful character. It is important that this Dominion's administrators should be careful lest they display too much zeal in attempts to curb the freedom of thought and speech upon which the permanence of British institutions largely depends.

HOW RADIOS ARE DISTRIBUTED THROUGHOUT CANADA

There are sixteen radios for every 100 farms in Canada. British Columbia farms are the most liberally provided among the provinces of the Dominion, with Ontario second and Saskatchewan third. The number of radios per 100 farms in British Columbia is twenty-three, in Ontario twenty-one and in Saskatchewan twenty. Manitoba and Alberta each have eighteen radios per 100 farms, while in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island there are eleven, in New Brunswick eight and in Quebec six. The total number of farms in Canada is 728,623 and the number of radios on farms 116,354.

These figures are taken from a bulletin issued as a result of the 1931 Canadian census. It analyzes the returns in regard to radios in much detail, and shows an average of 74.32 radio-sets for every 1,000 of the population. In regard to the number of radios in proportion to population Ontario leads with 106.2 per 1,000, while British Columbia is second with 95.2 and Manitoba third with 64.6. Alberta comes fourth with 60.6, followed by Saskatchewan with 60.0, Quebec with 52.4, Nova Scotia with 50.1, New Brunswick with 38.6 and Prince Edward Island with 35.0. The Yukon mining district has 16.5 radios for each 1,000 inhabitants.

Guy Lombardo and his Royal Canadian orchestra of Quebec have been engaged by Franklin D. Roosevelt to play at the inaugural ball at Washington to-morrow night. The unspoken thoughts of Paul Whiteman and Rudy Vallee would be interesting at this time.

The unexpected passing of Mr. J. E. B. Dickson will occasion widespread regret. Mr. Dickson, who was well known throughout the province as manager of the local business of P. Burns and Co., was endowed with sound business sense, high integrity and exceptional energy, and his loss will be keenly felt by the great organization with which he was connected for many years. He was an enthusiastic supporter of clean sport and always was ready actively to identify himself with movements for the encouragement of healthy recreation for our youth. Utterly devoid of pretense, a hater of sham, innately generous and always dependable, he enjoyed the confidence and esteem of a large circle of the public who will deplore his sudden demise and genuinely sympathize with his family in their bereavement.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BUTTER
The London Advertiser

British Columbia dairymen profess to be alarmed by the large importations of New Zealand butter, the tariff on which is canceled by currency inflation in the sister Dominion. They will appeal to the Dominion Government to do something. Do what?—wreck its own treaty with New Zealand? It is to be hoped not. The Conservative party used New Zealand butter to grease the skids under the King government. It serves that party right if some dairymen are doing the same thing for the Bennett government. But it is unlikely that Canadian farmers who were fooled on this issue in 1930 will walk again into the same trap.

DEBTS, TARIFFS AND GOLD
The Providence Journal

It is one of the continuing laments of financiers, economists and industrialists in this depression that such serious poor distribution of monetary gold impedes a restoration of the world's economic balance. Until this situation is corrected, it is unlikely that a return to the gold standard can be accomplished by those nations that have temporarily abandoned it. It is patent that this desired correction should be inculcated by an intelligent solution of the other two problems—war debts and tariffs. In fact these three items—debts, tariffs and gold—constitute indeed a minimum programme for world recovery.

A THOUGHT

But we see Jesus, who was made lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.—Hebrews II. 9.

It is what we give up, not what we lay up, that adds to our lasting store.—Hosea Salou.

Across The Bay

We get down to things that matter—and while they are very dull, the House listens with a new interest, realizing that the old crisis is no good any more. Mr. Loutet is heretical but sound—Dr. Gillis is frank—and Mr. Mackenzie is full of joy.

By H. B. W.

NEW HOPE

JUST AS YOU begin to despair of this Legislature and wonder whether the realities of these times will ever penetrate the tough outer rind of politics, suddenly and usually from the back benches—something worthwhile emerges to show you that there are sound and good men in public office, men who are suffering against fearful odds to do something worthwhile. Then again the darkness closes in. The constructive ideas are crushed under the dead weight of politics. Nothing happens.

Still, an idea is always an idea. You never know where its sparks may start new fires and so long as we have men here who can think and who are not afraid to say what they think, there is always hope. Two such men held the House on Thursday, held it, but did not excite or move it much. What they spoke of was too real, too fundamental, too contrary to custom and tradition, too far removed from the airy phantasies of politics to excite and move us. But we are changing nevertheless. We are more willing to think than we used to be. After three years of depression we at last are willing to admit its existence and to listen to remedies, even if we don't adopt them.

Jack Loutet was the chief speaker from the back benches and his speech, while not ornamental, made most of the front bench speeches of this or any other session look silly enough to be rather tragic. Mr. Loutet has one of the best brains in Conservative politics, when it comes to grappling with realities, but he is no politician. But he has no place in the present party organization, no sympathy whatever with orthodox party policy. Without suspecting it for a moment himself—he probably would deny it emphatically—he is a radical in Conservative clothing.

THINKER

YOU DON'T have to agree with Mr. Loutet to see that he is a man who has thought far more deeply into things than most of us, and reduced his thoughts to a tangible programme. His programme, in brief, is the reconstruction of our economic system by wringing out the water by allowing men to make profits on the useful production of goods, but not out of fancy financing, holding companies, speculative inflation of stock issues. This end he proposed a federal inquiry into the structure of all public companies and a law to force them to write down their inflated stock and bond issues to the actual amount of money invested. He would force all companies to distribute profits in dividends instead of ploughing them back again, and building up a top-heavy capital structure. That practice was the real inflation evil and it had gone on quite unchecked, bedeviling our whole economic system.

THIS WAS his alternative to socialism, for which he had no sympathy whatever. But pending this permanent reconstruction of business, he presented a temporary programme of rigidly-controlled currency inflation. It took a long time to explain and understand it, but he was easily understood in a few words. In brief, he suggested that the Government of Canada go to a manufacturer of shoes (or anything else which can be sold) and loan him sufficient money to produce, say a million pairs of shoes, allowing him nothing, however, for interest on his plant, but only for wages and production costs. The government would raise the money by issuing new currency, secured by the boots. When the boots were sold the loan would be repaid and the currency retired. Thus the inflation would be rigidly backed, not by gold, but by actual wealth.

HERESY

AGAIN SHOWING his independence, Mr. Loutet attacked Premier Bennett's conception of "sound money" as currency backed by sterile gold in a vault. Sound money, to him, was money backed by actual wealth. And as for selling the boots, history showed that purchasing power increased with increasing production. He believed the boots would be sold to the people who benefited from the operation of the factory. In addition, he advocated increased unemployment relief allowances and a reduction of interest rates.

For Premier Bennett's tariff policies Mr. Loutet had little use either. Tariffs, he said, were too high and an importer never knew what he would have to pay in duties when he brought in goods these days. This, of course, was rank treason to the party, but the House is in such a humble and tractable humor these days that it passed without a murmur. The House even applauded when he said that party politics was an interesting game, jolly to play when we could afford it, but a little out of place when the world was tumbling down about our ears.

SOUND MAN

DR. GILLIS, OF YALE, followed. It is not hard to understand why Dr. Gillis is elected in Yale, why Conservative strategists write that constituency off their maps before election time as already lost. Dr. Gillis is no orator, makes no effort to shine, talks to the House as he would lecture an overweight patient up in Yale on the need of reducing. Talking to the House thus, he attacked the whole theory of the Imperial Economic Conference in setting up fresh tariff barriers to world trade. He denounced the current theory of the treasury benches that nothing can be done about the depression, that we had just better sit down and take it, and that the way out is to cut everybody's salary down. A lot of things, said Dr. Gillis, could be done and must be done.

HE WAS REMARKABLY frank about fundamental matters that are scarcely ever mentioned. He believed in capitalism, as it meant private property, the sanctity of reasonable possessions, of family and of home. He had no use for state ownership, the unscrupled and unnatural theory that a man's life, family and religion should be regulated by central authority. But on the other hand, capitalism as it had developed of late years was utterly intolerable. Capitalism must be rebuilt to give everyone a chance, to recognize that labor has as much right to the wealth it produces as has capitalism.

To this end industries should be reorganized completely. But he admitted that it was a discouraging business, for while communism had a plan, a programme, a rallying cry, capitalism had none. It was a house divided against itself in a disagreeable quarrel over individual spoils. All of which, while it may seem dull and commonplace to you after the intimate economic revelations of the last few years, is rank heresy in this House.

Until the world could be rebuilt, Dr. Gillis proposed large-scale public works for the unemployed. As for the money, there was plenty in the country, more than ever. If war broke out to-morrow there would be ample funds to finance it. Against his greatest enemy, Poverty, men should be able to organize his resources in the same way. It was preposterous, he said, that the country should pay out $62 a month to keep six men idle in camps for a month while it gave a man and his wife and four children $23.50.

The Premier evidently said that all right, but said the government simply couldn't get the money to start works, to pay a wage of $13 a month, to single men, as Dr. Gillis suggested.

Pawky old Rod Mackenzie, of Cariboo, wound up the day briefly by telling of the new gold that has been found in the old Cariboo gold field. Mr. Mackenzie has come here full of optimism, the one bright spot in the House. The gold of Cariboo, he said, would solve the P.O.E. problem, would give British Columbia another Rand. The House, after a heavy day of economics, went to dinner a little happier after that.

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES
MARCH 3, 1908
(From The Times Files)

The announcement made that the G.T.P. is to begin construction of the new Pacific coast railway will be regarded with delight by all in the province. The wisdom of the Dominion Government in providing for another such enterprise is evident in this province.

The Canadian Pacific R.M.S. Empress of Japan, Capt. H. Pybus, arrived at the outer wharf last evening about 6 o'clock.

R. P. Butchart, managing director of the Vancouver Portland Cement Company, has returned from a trip to Mexico. The object of the trip to the south was for the purpose of seeking an extension of business for the Tod Inlet works.

Saturday evening a party of Conservative organizers, consisting of G. H. Barnard, president of the Conservative Association, R. P. Green, late minister of lands and works, and W. H. Hayward, M.P.P. for Cowichan; Mr. Harvey, and the government agent at Nanaimo, left for Metlakelna to organize that district in the Conservative interests.

The Victoria intermediate rugby team won the British Columbia championship Saturday afternoon by defeating the Vancouver team by the final score of 8 to 5, at the Brockton Point grounds.

THE "BEST LINE."

To the Editor:—Inspired by Mr. Alfred Spencer's interesting letter, "The Best Line in Poetry," I beg leave to place in nomination a line written by one of our own local poets, Mr. Alex. H. Sutherland, in a poem entitled, "Lower Fort Garry." In this poem Mr. Sutherland describes the old stone fort standing to-day amidst and strange before the noisy advances of man and his machines. The verse whose last two lines are rich in melody and of exquisite beauty, follows:

Thin ears are unaccustomed to the din
Of throbbing engines; listen all in vain
To hear the music of the mighty plain
Across the distant marshes drifting in."

The poem is in the collection entitled, "Red River Reminiscences and Poems," recently published by CHARLES L. MCLUNG, 1725 Beach Drive, Victoria, B.C.

"SALARY MORATORIUM"

To the Editor:—Amongst the deluge of suggested remedies appearing in the press from all sorts of correspondents, we search vainly for some practical solution which does little good to propose and give quick results. So here goes for an original dose of medical prescription, viz: Let the Dominion and provincial governments, together with municipal authorities, adopt a twelve month "salary moratorium" under which no public employees—draw or be paid, more than $200, or less than $75 per month. This would release a few millions to pay off debts, release unemployment and distribute the taxpayers' money with more common sense justice to the citizens, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. No hardship would be inflicted on the salaried recipients, as the money would be without income. "SOCRATES." Victoria, B.C., March 2, 1933.

MONEY POLICY

To the Editor:—I notice you publish many letters criticizing governmental and financial institutions for their inability to lift the economic burden from backs of the sorely distressed populace of our country. Much of criticism is needed, but more of a constructive nature would be most useful. Calling people ugly names does little good to improve anything, and often indicates a lack of mental balance in the person or group indulging the practice.

The writer has recently come upon an excellent suggestion sponsored by The Journal of Commerce, London, England, and published as a supplement thereto, under the title "Monetary Policy."

The idea expressed therein is to issue currency against commercial bills representing productive and distributive effort. These bills to be redemtable by a central bank which would be the source of currency issue. Coupled with this is the demand that all financial institutions of every description in the country be members of the central banking system. By this means there is brought about monetary control without inflation or deflation, and stabilization of prices within narrow ranges, but ample currency circulated to secure a high purchasing power for the population, coupled with its ability to absorb its own productive effort.

The idea also embraces a means of stabilizing world prices by fixing parity of exchange as between national groups accepting the plan.

To achieve this desirable economic goal, the plan demands an international clearinghouse, at which member nations, central bank authorities, meet on equal terms, fix exchange parity and settle trade balances.

These trade balances are not settled by actual transfer of gold, but as book-keeping entries, until such time as the accounts are permanently settled by the exchange of commodities and services, which constitute the only real basis of any settlement as between nations.

It is readily seen that such a system would end price competition, and the nation practicing it would be the first and only one to suffer the terrible effects resulting therefrom.

The plan comes sponsored by active men of affairs, a list of whose names are published with the document. It was presented for discussion at the economic conference recently held in Ottawa. Copies may be had by applying to the "League for Monetary Reform," Ottawa, Ontario, Canada.

The writer thinks the plan is sound and that all intelligent men who really desire to get out of the present mess and keep out of future ones will find in it the way. There is little in it for the avaricious "gold bug" and less for those whose present intention is to destroy what is and to substitute experiment and greater uncertainty. The plan does accept a gold standard for value measurement. But read and read this excellent document, then work to realize its aims and march into the light of better days.

Moose Members Give Concert At Aged Men's Home

The Aged and Infirm Men's Home was visited Wednesday evening by a large number of members and friends of the Women of the Moose and Maple Leaf Legion No. 53. T. W. Spouse, chairman of the programme, recorded the visitors' pleasure to visit the home again and said that the aim of every Moose should be to spread a bit of happiness and sunshine wherever possible.

The programme included an opening piano solo by R. Duckworth; Mrs. C. H. Butt sang "Your Song of Paradise" and an encore, a Scotch comic sketch by J. Johnston, called "Some in the Bottle for the Morning"; also a betting deal with T. Spouse and B. Knott, which was much applauded. A quartette number "The Tack" was given by Miss D. Evans, Mrs. T. Hardy, M. P. Knott and F. Crowhurst, and an exhibition of tap dancing by Miss N. White and Miss B. Stomking.

The sketch "School Days" was presented. Mrs. A. Hatcher as the teacher and G. Allan as the inspector, taking the principal parts. The songs "School Days" and "Two Little Girls in Blue" were sung by the pupils who were: Mesdames C. Drysdale, H. Parker, Misses F. Spouse, M. Phillips and D. Quisla, J. Logie, J. Johnston, B. Knott, T. Spouse and H. Duffield. The duet "Lambert Watch" by J. Rhodes and S. Honeychurch, accompanied by Miss C. Honeychurch, a number by the quartette and Mrs. G. S. Mitchell's song "An Old-fashioned Town," which called for an encore and a tap dancing by Miss N. White, concluded the programme.

G. Harward, manager of the Home, thanked the Legion and Chapter on behalf of the inmates for the splendid concert and said that they always looked forward to these visits. Delicious refreshments were then served and the Legion distributed tobacco to the inmates. Dancing was then enjoyed and the pleasant evening was brought to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

YESTERDAY EVENING'S BRIDE

MRS. NEIL MUNN McNEILL (nee Luney)

Black and White Color Motif Used At Wedding

Striking Combination at Ceremony at St. Mary's Yesterday Evening

Miss Eleanor R. Luney Becomes Bride of Neil M. McNeill

The striking and unusual color motif of black and white, relieved with daffodil yellow, was chosen for the bride's attire at the wedding of Eleanor Raymond, daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Walter Luney, 1566 Hampshire Road, and Mr. Neil Munn McNeill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McNeill, 501 St. Charles Street, which was solemnized by Rev. Canon A. E. de L. Nunn in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, yesterday evening at 8 o'clock in the presence of a congregation which filled the church.

Under the direction of Miss Una Robertson, a bevy of girl friends of the bride had decorated the church with beautiful sprays of white, purple and yellow, and daffodils were banked at the chancel rail, from which rose tall illuminated yellow tapers.

While the assembled guests were waiting the entrance of the bride party, Mrs. C. E. McNeill sang with much feeling, "Devotion" (Haydn Wood), accompanied at the organ by Mr. E. T. C. Wickett. During the signing of the register, Mr. J. W. Francis effectively sang the solo, "My World."

BLACK AND WHITE

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a charming picture in her lovely wedding gown. A Lebowitz model of white crepe satin matelasse. The cross-over bodice was finished with a yoke of white net, and at the waistline the belt was crossed in front and fastened at the back with a brilliant buckle. The long, mousseline sleeves of the material were finished at the shoulders with caplets and the graceful skirt of floor length extended into a train at the back. Her veil of white silk net, bordered with two deep bands of exquisite rose point lace, was confined to the head beneath a Juliet cap of orange blossoms, falling in graceful folds to form a second filmy train in place of the conventional bouquet the bride carried an ivory vellum prayer book, from which fell long white satin streamers caught with tines of the valley.

Black ring velvet was the material chosen by the two attendants, Miss Una Robertson, maid of honor, and Mrs. W. R. Clark, sister of the bride, the matron of honor, Miss Robertson's gown was fashioned on long lines with a deep tight-fitting belt effect, with short cape sleeves edged with coo feathers, while Mrs. Clark's simply-cut gown boasted a short jacquette. Both were close-fitting, jaunty little hats finished with a nosegay and black lace mittens and carried shower bouquets of yellow daffodils and tulips and white freesias.

Four-year-old Master Vernon Taylor, son of Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Taylor, was the curly-headed little train-bearer, wearing a white satin shirt and black velvet trousers. Mr. Horace Phillips was the best man, and the ushers were Mr. Walter Dixon and Mr. Cowper Newbury.

RECEPTION HELD

Following the service, a largely attended reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on Hampshire Road, the reception rooms presenting a spring-like appearance with the floral decorations. The entrance hall was banked with daffodils and Oregon grape, and in the drawing-room the young couple stood beneath an arch of Japanese plum blossom, Oregon grape and the Legion distributed tobacco to the inmates. Dancing was then enjoyed and the pleasant evening was brought to a close with the singing of Auld Lang Syne.

CHAPTER TEA ON CIT BIRTHDAY

I.O.D.E. Celebrate Sir James Douglas's Landing Here March 14

A standing tribute of sympathy for Mrs. E. C. Hayward in her recent sad bereavement, was passed at the opening of the meeting of the Pastmistress of the Victoria Chapter, held yesterday afternoon, and the members voted that a book be donated to the Sir James Douglas School as a memorial to the late Mr. Douglas.

The report of the rummage sale held last week, was brought in by Mrs. C. T. Tennant, vice-president, the report proving very satisfactory, and thanks were expressed to all who had assisted in making the affair a success, and also to the manager of the Washington Hotel for his assistance.

The report of the municipal chapter meeting was brought in by Mrs. A. M. Boyd, also the summary of the provincial chapter meeting. Mrs. Josephine Douglas, chapter delegate, was appointed the chapter's delegate to the annual meeting of the provincial chapter to be held in April.

Members were asked to attend the annual meeting of the municipal chapter to be held on Thursday, March 23, in the New Thought Hall, on Fort Street.

The chapter heard an interesting address from Mrs. A. E. Hopkins on the first chapter organized in Victoria, and the subsequent development into the present chapter of to-day. The honorary regent, Mrs. R. B. McKicking, added many interesting details from her own experience of the formation of the chapters, including her own chapter which was formed twenty-one years ago in April.

The arrangements for the commemoration tea to be given in the Empress Hotel on Tuesday, March 14, were fully made, and the consent of V. I. Denton to address the gathering on the early history of Vancouver Island, was received with pleasure.

The acceptance by the Hon. Randolph Bruce and Mrs. Bruce of Invermere, B.C., to attend the tea as guests of the chapter, was received with pleasure and the hope was expressed that the general public would patronize the chapters' effort to preserve the historic date of the landing of Sir James Douglas and the birthday of Victoria on March 14, 1860.

The guests thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon, and a vote of appreciation was accorded the King's Daughters for their hospitality and kindness.

Mrs. D. J. McLachlan in her presidential address briefly reviewed her term of office and acknowledged the loyal support of the officers and members. In such times as these it was a privilege to the credit of the British Columbia Provincial Council that none of the local councils had fallen away from the organization, moreover, three of the local councils, Westminster, Nanaimo and Chilliwack, had completed their allocations for the foundation fund instituted for the purpose of assisting payment of partial expenses of delegates to meetings.

The report of the retiring corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bagley, covered the major activities of the provincial during the past year.

The treasurer's annual report showed receipts totaling $228.32, disbursements of $37.93, leaving a balance of $190.39.

MRS. R. W. McCLUNG

In an illuminating address, Mrs. R. W. McClung touched upon the economic conditions and warmly commended the Unemployment Emergency Campaign and the Women's Workmen's practical efforts to ameliorate conditions.

Speaking on poetry she traced the influence of poetry from the days of the Phoenicians, when a verse on the life of a captive would lead to his being freed. To-day poets were held in too little esteem, Mrs. McClung declared, as she reminded her hearers of the fact that the poet is a seer and "without vision a people perish."

Poetry afforded a means of escape, a golden door through which one can attain to the enchanted garden. It brought out an awareness of beauty, the speaker said, as she recited a number of charming verses dealing with the beauty hidden under homely things, and reflecting the universal note, the common lot of man.

The sympathetic reader's sense of fellowship with the poet was illustrated by Mrs. McClung in her recital of some of Edna St. Vincent Millay's verses, and the poems of Audrey Alexander Brown of Nanaimo, and of Edna-Jaques of Victoria.

MAKING A FRIEND

In conclusion, Mrs. McClung urged every member of the councils to make a friend of families in need by sending them old magazines and books to help divert their thoughts.

"If we had a war to-morrow we would find the money to finance it, and we women would leave our households to make many-need bandages as we did in the last war. If we would do all that to kill an enemy why couldn't we make the same effort to save our own people," Mrs. McClung said with feeling in closing her address.

LO.B.A. Held Social—Purple Star Lodge 104 held their regular social meeting in the Orange Hall on March 1. There was a good attendance of members present, also worthy Sister Ashworth of Queen of Island. Delegates reports were read from provincial grand lodge. B.C. COUNCIL ELECT OFFICERS

Mrs. A. C. Bagley New President of Provincial Council of Women

Mrs. R. W. McClung Addresses Gathering on Canadian Poetry

Mrs. A. C. Bagley of Vancouver was elected by acclamation to the presidency of the Provincial Council of Women at the annual meeting held in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday afternoon, following the quarterly session held in the afternoon.

Other officers chosen were: First vice-president, Miss S. R. Crease, Victoria; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. W. Murray, New Westminster, and recording secretary and treasurer, Miss E. J. Stephens, North Vancouver.

Before she left the chair, the retiring president, Mrs. McLachlan, was presented by Miss Crease, on behalf of the Provincial Council, with an attractive book, "The Devotional Period," taken by the president, Miss Louise Patterson. Recently the society held their first recreation night at the church at which a large number of members were present. Harvey Patterson and Clare Belcher took charge of badminton, ping-pong and checker tournaments. Later everyone adjourned to the home of Mrs. Reg. Scoble for refreshments. The evening proved a great success and recreation night will be held every Friday at 8 o'clock when the tournaments will be continued. During the business meeting plans were made for a "mock musical festival" which will be held on Monday, March 27, in which every member will take part. The Bible class with illustrated slides is held on Sunday evenings at 6.45, led by Mr. Reg. Scoble, and also the special young people's song service at 7.15 o'clock before the regular church service, led by Mr. James, the singing evangelist. Next Monday evening the society will meet at 8 o'clock, and all young people are cordially invited.

Women Urge Completion
Of All-Canada Highway

Provincial Council to Approach Legislature Concerning Golden-Revelstoke Link

Also Want Divorce Registration Included in Vital Statistics Act

Representations will be made to the Legislature by the Provincial Council of Women asking for the completion of the all-Canada highway link between Golden and Revelstoke, as a measure to relieve the unemployment situation, and at the same time enable Canadians to travel from east to west without entering foreign territory.

Decision to this effect was made at yesterday's quarterly meeting, and at the same meeting the members also voted to ask the government to include registration of divorces in the Vital Statistics Act which Hon. R. L. Maitland is introducing to the Legislature.

Mrs. Henry Gregory MacGill, in her motion on the subject, pointed out that the inclusion of such statistics, as is done in the case of births, marriages and deaths, would afford a measure of protection to any girl contemplating matrimony with a man whose claim to being a divorced husband could not, under the present system, be proved.

FOOD-WASTAGE

Concerning the resolution from North Vancouver Council regarding the conservation of foodstuffs, the provincial executive had suggested that the matter be referred to Local Councils and for them to deal with their own local relief committees. Reference was made by members to the waste of foodstuffs in the farming communities and to the alleged consignment by wholesale houses of foodstuffs to the incinerators.

Mrs. A. C. Bagley read a letter from the national headquarters regarding "O Canada" stating eight of the provinces favored the Weir version of the national anthem.

MANUFACTURERS MUST HELP

On the subject of supporting home products, Mrs. D. J. McLaughlin, the president, observed that while the public is asked to do their share in this campaign, the manufacturers of British Columbia be asked to do their share by seeing that goods of a high standard be maintained. Miss Gressie commented on the poor quality of candles made in B.C., and the matter will be brought to the attention of those concerned.

Mrs. John Robertson of Vancouver, national convener of taxation, voted offering to address the council on the present economic crisis in its relation to taxation.

The Vancouver Council wrote advocating the use of British dictionaries in all schools, libraries and public offices, pointing out that the Shorter Oxford dictionary in two volumes was available. The secretary was asked to obtain further information as to comparative prices.

PERNOCIOUS ARTICLES

A reply was read from the national headquarters concerning the receipt of a protest against an article appearing in a magazine published in Canada, the letter promising to send the protest to the Federal Censorship Board.

Further correspondence was read giving the history of the action taken by women's organizations six years ago which resulted in the imposition of a big tax on the magazines to which objection was taken, and the subsequent printing of the magazines in question in Canada.

Mrs. Paul Smith urged that information be obtained as to the jurisdiction of the Federal Censorship authorities in the matter of suppression of pernicious magazines and also from the Attorney-General of British Columbia as to the provincial jurisdiction over Canadian or imported magazines.

CANADIAN NEWSREELS

Victoria's resolution as to the alleged marked absence of Canadian items from the newsreels shown in the moving picture theatres, was endorsed at the national executive meeting and will be considered at the annual meeting.

ing of the National Council, it was reported.

New Westminster's resolution asking for an amendment to the Criminal Code concerning alleged ill-treatment of a child, was referred to Mrs. MacGill for investigation and formulation of a suggested plan to cover the entire case for presentation at the next meeting.

Mrs. MacGill brought to the attention of the council the proposed Vital Statistics Act to be introduced in the Provincial Legislature by Hon. R. L. Maitland, and moved that the government be approached asking provision be made in it for the registration of divorces, as is done in the case of births, marriages and deaths.

ALL-CANADA HIGHWAY

The project of completing the British Columbia end of the All-Canada highway was introduced and on speakers pointing out that there still was a hiatus between Golden and Revelstoke it was decided to urge the Provincial Legislature to undertake this, thus helping to relieve the unemployment situation.

The constitution was the theme of a communication from the national body, particularly in regard to the overlapping of reports.

Naimo's notice of motion asking that the president's term be limited to two years was defeated after some discussion.

Members were informed that copies of the British Columbia and Alberta Dower Acts had been secured and were available for reference.

A standing tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. S. P. Tolmie was passed.

Homeless Families

Growing Problem

Canadian Press

Glasgow, Scotland, March 3.—Strong objections have been made by the public assistance officer for Lanarkshire against the methods alleged to have been adopted by the Canadian government in transporting unemployed back to Great Britain.

The officer stated that recently twenty-one families, comprising ninety-four persons, had arrived at Blantyre, Scotland, from Glace Bay, N.S., and since their arrival had been dependent on the ratepayers in the county.

A report on the subject was submitted to the Lanark county council yesterday, and it was decided representations should be made to the department of health for Scotland to take whatever action it might think necessary.

It was pointed out it was costing almost £2,000 a year to maintain deportees who were homeless and destitute.

To Tax Bachelors

In New Zealand

Canadian Press

Wellington, N.Z., March 3.—Bachelors are going to have to do their share in keeping New Zealand's financial balance on the right side of the ledger.

What is the equivalent to a bachelor tax, estimated to produce £25,000, is provided for in the annual taxing bill introduced in the New Zealand Parliament yesterday.

It is one of many measures the government is taking to improve the financial condition of the country.

Associated Press

Pasadena, Cal., March 3.—Prof. Auguste Piccard, veteran of two stratosphere expeditions, does not plan another trip into the upper regions.

He expressed surprise yesterday at press reports that he had been quoted as saying his next venture aloft in a balloon would be from the southwest part of the United States.

It was said, however, some other scientist might be induced to make an ascension at Hudson Bay, with the veteran physicist lending his valued advice.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DIET OF YEAR-OLD BABY INCLUDES APPETIZING VARIETY

One mother accused me, I think unjustly, of omitting diets for the year-old child. Certainly, if no diets for the one-year-old have appeared in this column I have been entirely unconscious of it.

The changes in the one-year diet are very few. Weaning is completed by ten months or sooner. Four cups of whole milk, without sugar or water, are in order. Part of this may be used to drink, part of it in cooking the food.

NO SET AMOUNTS

The amounts to be served at each meal are merely suggestive, baby's own appetite being the only safe criterion of amounts. No food should ever be forced, as forcing destroys baby's pleasure in eating and gives him the very erroneous idea that this ceremony is a satisfaction to his mother but not necessarily to him.

Foods may be served for several months, depending upon baby's reaction to unserved foods. Too much bowel activity would indicate that the inactive roughage found in fruits and vegetables had better be eliminated by sieving.

CEREALS

Whole grain cereals, either barley, wheat, rice or oats, are the best choices for the young child. The vitamin B in cereals containing the outer coat and the inner germ insure the child against appetitelessness and against the development of pellagra, a nutritional disease characterized by an excessively dry and rough skin.

The milk may still be boiled, unless there are no undigested bean-like curds in the stools when only pasteurized milk is used. Orange or tomato juice will furnish baby with sufficient vitamin C to protect him against scurvy, even if nothing but boiled milk is used.

The diet then takes the following lines:

Breakfast, 7 to 7:30 a.m. Two to four tablespoons of well cooked whole grain cereal, with two to four ounces of boiled milk over it. One piece of zwieback, whole wheat biscuit, or toast. Four to six ounces of milk to drink. One teaspoonful of cod liver oil.

Midmeal lunch, 10 to 11 a.m. Juice of one sweet orange, or one to two tablespoons of strained tomato juice, with or without additional water.

LUNCH

Lunch, 12 to 12:30 p.m. Soft or hard cooked egg yolk, or finely chopped heart of lamb chop, or one to two tablespoons of scraped beefsteak, or one to two tablespoons of finely chopped and steamed calves' liver, or one to two tablespoons of white boneless fish. Two to four ounces of vegetable soup, served with vegetables or two to four tablespoons of sieved green vegetables. One piece of zwieback or toast, one-half cup of starchy cereals used in pudding, with one-half cup of milk to drink. Or one cup of custard or junket, no milk to drink. One teaspoonful of cod liver oil.

Supper, 5:30 to 6:30 p.m. Same as breakfast with addition of two to four tablespoons of sieved, cooked fruit sauce (apricots, prunes or apples). One teaspoonful of cod liver oil.

Tells Of Fine Books Written By Canadians

Speaking before The Canadian Daughters yesterday evening on the subject of Canadian Literature, Mrs. Marion Isabel Angus of the Victoria and Islands branch, Canadian Authors' Association, gave a comprehensive and interesting survey of the writings of modern Canadian authors.

Mrs. Angus prefaced her brief analytical summary of the works of several of the best known writers with the expressed conviction that though Canada may not yet be said to possess a strictly national literature, a nucleus is steadily forming which will be the basis of a national literature as broad and beautiful as the country itself.

She made a plea for a better knowledge of the work of Canadian writers and an appreciation of much that was equal and often superior to the majority of books on the present day market.

Mazo de la Roche had written ten of the development of a Canadian family, but while the setting was beautifully typical the family was not, Audrey Alexander Brown, of Nanaimo, typifies the spirit of modern Canada.

Mrs. Angus, and her poetry has received the acclamation of the most authoritative critics. The work of Bliss Carman, a Canadian who was obliged, like many others, to seek fortune elsewhere than in his native land, and Charles G. D. Roberts, were given their just need of praise among many other writers enumerated by the speaker.

British Columbia had provided inspiration to her own chroniclers and poets, and among those who achieved fame even in their lifetime, Mrs. Angus mentioned Isabel Ecclestone MacKay and Pauline Johnson; Percy Gomersy of Vancouver; Evald McKown, whose "Crimson West" is to be filmed in Victoria shortly; "The Drum of Llanor-aye," by A. Emattinger Fraser, had been compared with Willa Cather's "Shadows on the Rock."

Writers of Victoria and Vancouver Island recalled the late Mrs. L. Adams Beck in her authorship under her own name, and in that of E. Parrington. Mrs. Angus read extracts from the work of local writers, including M. Eugene Perry, Nellie L. McClung, Robert Hazlemer, Lionel Stevenson, Audrey Alexander Brown, Donald A. Fraser, Lewis Wharton, as well as from her own writings.

Mrs. Angus received a hearty vote of thanks, proposed by Mrs. R. McInnes, and Mrs. A. C. Ross, and was presented with a Colonial bouquet of violets, daffodils and carnations by Mrs. A. C. Pike, vice-president, who presided and also introduced the speaker.

Refreshments were served. A dinner and bridge party will be held in the near future. Mrs. A. C. Ross and Mrs. G. H. Gardiner gave interesting reports of the Local Council of Women's annual meeting.

Edmonton Normal School May Close

Canadian Press

Edmonton, March 3.—Closing down of the $300,000 normal school in Edmonton may be witnessed under the Alberta Government's economy measures.

Although Premier J. E. Brownlee and his ministers refused comment, it was believed the government had found it necessary to take such a step in the interest of economy during the present financial stringency.

Emmanuel Mission Circle—The Women's Mission Circle of Emmanuel Baptist Church met on Tuesday afternoon for their monthly meeting, with the president, Mrs. Wm. Russell, in the chair. The speakers for the afternoon were Mr. W. P. Freeman, who spoke on "Sharing in Fellowship," and Mrs. Purvis Smith, a retired missionary, who told of some of her personal experiences in China.

Uncle Wiggily And Noodle's Surprise

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Come on, Uncle Wiggily!" called Noodle Flat-Tail, the beaver boy, to the rabbit gentleman. "Come on!" "Where?" asked Mr. Longears. "We must follow my brother Toodle and find out the secret mystery about his tail!" "What?" asked Noodle. "Hal! I'm with you on that!" chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "I may get an adventure out of it!"

"In give you a ride."

"I hope so," said Noodle as he made a snowball and tossed it with his front paws at a tree, hitting it on the trunk. Of course it wouldn't be polite to throw a snowball at a dog's back but it's all right to throw a snowball at a tree's back. It's funny that Uncle Wiggily, that Toodle goes off by himself in this secret, mysterious way to try to sell his tail and get money to buy himself a pair of skates!

"Oh, no," answered the beaver boy. "Toodle's tail is fastened to him the same as my tail is fastened to mine and yours is to you!"

"Well," spoke Uncle Wiggily with a sigh, "my tail isn't much to talk about. It isn't much larger than the silly tail the Bob Cat wears. But I shouldn't like to lose my tail!"

"No, Toodle isn't trying to get rid of his tail," went on Noodle. "But if we can follow him we may find out his secret. And I don't believe it is wrong to try to find it out, do you?"

"Not at all," exclaimed Mr. Longears. "It is Ben Toodle's good that we are trying to find out where goes with his tail!"

Uncle Wiggily and Noodle, the beaver boys, went on their way. They had to go much farther before they saw Toodle ahead of them. Toodle was walking along in the snow dragging his tail behind him just like a sled. Toodle was walking toward a pool little house made of sticks, straw and stones.

Hiding behind a bush near this little house, Uncle Wiggily and Noodle saw Toodle go to the door and tap gently. At the same time Toodle called: "Come on out, and I'll give you a ride on my sled!"

Out of the poor little house came scurrying five little mice children, three girls and two boys. Their clothes were ragged, but their eyes were bright. They saw Toodle and they squeaked: "Oh, joy! Oh, joy!" five times just like that. And the oldest mouse boy said: "Welcome, you come to make more fun for us!"

"I have," answered Toodle. "Climb on and I'll give you a ride!" The five little mice children (three girls and two boys) climbed on Toodle's broad, flat tail and then the beaver boy began to run, giving the mice a fine ride over the snow.

"It's now I understand," said Uncle Wiggily. "These poor mice children have no sled of their own. Knowing this, Toodle wanted to be kind to them and so he sneaked off here by himself to give them a ride on his tail which is very like a sled!"

The Man Hunters

When Ben telephoned the toll him she was busy. She had not seen him since the eventful night of the house party. Quite unreasonably she blamed him in her heart. If he had not been there, she would think, perhaps things might have been different. Susan went to movies with Rose, washed her hair, darned her stockings with beautiful invisible stitches. She borrowed books from the library and read them with her mind far away. Everything seemed empty and futile. Some days—the easiest one—passed in a sort of grey haze when she felt nothing at all. There were other times when the turn of a head, a man's voice calling at another across the restaurant or a phrase leaping at her from the pages of a book awoke her to something like life.

She wondered why people said the young were happy. They certainly weren't. At least she wasn't. She kept reaching out and striving for things she could never have. It would be better to be like Ray, who accepted everything at its face value.

Over the coffee luncheon Susan happened to mention the fact that today was her birthday. Ray widened his eyes.

"My eye! What did the boy friend give you?" Susan smiled. "Haven't any boy friend." Ray looked shrewd. "Expect me to believe that?" Susan allowed herself a tiny shrug. "You can believe it or not, just as you like. It's true."

"You're plenty good-looking—that is, if anybody likes the tall type. And you could have a good time if you only put your mind to it." Susan ate her ice cream. "Maybe that's the trouble. I don't care enough," she said.

Ray announced, "It's just plain dumb. That's what it is! If you'd care to make-up, you'd be real cute. Why don't you come to the house some night and let mamma fix you up?" "You're awfully kind," Susan told her. "I'll think about it." She squeezed Ray's plump little arm as they went out. Yes, it must be comfortable to be like Ray. Life would be simple if you only put your mind to it.

COACH BUILDERS' CONTEST

Lesson Fourteen

By FRANK C. RIESS

Technical Director, Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild

In last week's article for members of The Victoria Times chapter of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, I pointed out that often the upholstery on a coach is spoiled by carelessness in the smaller details. This can best be illustrated by taking the lower trim of the door as an example. It is here that the coach builder's art is really put to the test. The appearance of this detail when the corners are sharp

ILLUSTRATION NO. 31

A perfect mitered ribbon corner for the door panels may be made by following these suggestions. First the ribbon ends are folded at 45-degree angles. The edges are then brought together and sewn. The short tab end should be cut away as much as possible and the joint then pressed down into the valve when pressing to prevent scratching the ribbon.

and well-defined, with nicely-mitered ribbon band.

The central portion of the panel is padded with cotton to produce the tufted effect to best advantage. Too often this padding was extended out to the edge of the panel and this gave the whole door the appearance of being clumsy and stuffed.

Do not spoil your work by having the rows of French knots of different widths, irregular, or poorly located. Draw each knot down into the valve material firmly. The knots should not rest on the surface, but will be partially concealed if drawn properly.

These same suggestions apply also to the lower interior trim of the side panels. The upper portion of the door and side end panels is covered with plain white velvet, the same as is used for the lower trim. Some boys overlooked this detail last year.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?
London, Ont.—"A few years ago my nerves were all gone, my appetite was poor, I slept poorly and felt nervous all over," said Chas. Ackworth of 15 Hamilton Rd. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was recommended and before I had finished the first bottle my digestive organs were in perfect order, my nerves soon became normal and I felt well and strong again. I feel sure there isn't a tonic on the market today that can equal the 'Discovery' for strengthening the weak spots in the human system."

"IT IS SLIMMING ME!"

18 lbs. Gone—Backache Gone Too!

PLEASANT SURPRISE FROM KRUSCHEN

She wouldn't believe it—but the scales insisted! You see she did not take Kruschen Salts with the idea of ridding herself of that superfluous fat. She had backache—and that was what she was treating. So she killed two birds with one stone.

This is what she wrote about it:—"Allow me to send you a few words to tell you that Kruschen Salts has done wonders for me. My backache has gone, and what is more, Kruschen is slimming me down in a way that I would never believe, if it wasn't for the fact that the scales show 18 pounds less in six months. This is entirely due to Kruschen Salts, and I shall never be without them."—J. P.

The condition which caused this woman to put on weight was also the cause of her backache. The whole trouble was due to the internal organs failing to expel from the body, regularly and completely, the waste products of digestion.

The combination of natural salts in Kruschen assists the internal organs to perform their functions properly—throw off each day the waste and poisons that cumber the system. Then, little by little, that ugly fat goes—slowly, yes—but surely. The backache and headaches disappear. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

"Almost Persuaded," Says Bowser Emerging From Long Retirement

ical. He spoke briefly, pointing out that the Tolmie government was going behind $21,000 a day in addition to its accumulated past deficits and that someone had to take some action to save the province which was heading straight into receivership.

Many members of the Legislature were scattered throughout the audience, which was composed of an unduly heavy proportion of women.

On the platform with George McGreggor, who was chairman, were Dr. G. A. B. Hall, ex-Liberal M.P.P.; Dr. Gordon Kerr of Merrville, E. B. Anderson, F. O. Blake of Esquimalt; Col. J. Lightbody, G. H. Walton of Sidney, and Harry Owen, labor leader.

COMING BACK ON TAXPAYERS' NOW

Mr. Bowser entered the meeting accompanied by F. C. Elliott, past president of the Victoria Conservative Association, Major J. B. Hardinge and Waldo Skilling.

"We have a government to-day that has been weighed in the balance and found wanting," said Mr. Bowser, referring to the present administration.

"I don't want to say anything against any of them personally, but if they had tried to do more they could not have succeeded better."

"They have reached the stage now where their extravagant expenditures are coming back on the taxpayers. The result is thousands of people are losing their property."

"I don't say that under anyone the millennium will come overnight. But we would apply to government the same policy that the business man does when his business fails off."

He declared the present movement was marked by men of all shades of political leaning placing their political interests before party. Messages to this effect were coming from all parts of the Province. He caused a laugh when he told of one wire he received yesterday from the West Coast congratulating him on "accepting the Premier'ship."

BLAMES TOLMIE FOR MESS

Mr. Bowser asserted there was no excuse for Dr. Tolmie as Conservative leader with a large majority back of him in the Legislature letting the Conservative Party get out of hand.

As for definitely accepting the leadership of the new "titans" movement he said he thought it reasonable he should defer until the great constituency of Vancouver, which had cradled him had been heard from. This would be at the meetings in Vancouver on March 10.

"As I have served many years in the public life of this Province, many people think I could be of some assistance in helping to pull out of the impossible situation British Columbia finds itself in to-day," Mr. Bowser continued.

"One would be otherwise than human where he is not to be affected and influenced by such a demonstration as I have seen and heard this evening."

SEES UNITED EFFORT NEEDED

"I attribute it to the fact that we are passing through abnormal and discouraging times, and I am sure that in this public life in this province, as a member of the Legislature, Minister of the Crown and Prime Minister, many people must think I could be of some assistance in helping us out of the nearly impossible position we find ourselves in."

"When I retired from public life, nine years ago, I felt I had done my bit, and had no intention of ever returning to public life, but from all quarters I am hearing the call to return."

"I am naturally influenced when my old Liberal antagonists of years gone by are insistent in their demand that I should return."

"This also applies with equal force to Conservatives—joining Liberals in a period when a Conservative Premier has a large majority in the Legislature."

"In the midst of unsettled and trying conditions of world-wide magnitude, composed of Conservatives, Liberals, Labor and Independents, is seriously impressed with the need of united effort, and feel that steps should be taken to set our house in order so as to be the better able to cope with the problems facing us in B.C."

"I have listened with interest and have been greatly impressed by the remarks of the speakers, but also by the fact that old party politics are being submerged in what they consider the best interests of our province."

"You have presented to me a very important proposal, that I as an old party man, who for over forty years have known nothing but party politics, should now re-enter public life as the leader of a non-party group in the approaching election, and place my humble services with such experience as I have gained by over twenty-one years of unintermitted service in the House at the disposal of the people."

"From the ever recurring deficits by the late Liberal Government and the losses of the Conservative Government, it can with a great deal of force be urged that the time has come for someone to undertake this work with all classes of electors joining together with the common purpose of saving our country from financial bankruptcy, and for that reason I appreciate the very great honor you do me, and wish to express my thanks to you all."

"I also feel sure that you fully realize the very great responsibility which such a step involves on my part, and the necessity for me to take time to consider."

"As another meeting of a similar nature is to be held in Vancouver next week, to which I have already been invited, I think you will agree with me that any decision I may make ought to be deferred until then."

Referring to the fact that a Liberal Scotsman like Mr. McGreggor was in the chair, Mr. Bowser jokingly congratulated his past election experiences, in which he repeatedly won his seat in Vancouver, but the boxes in which the

"Mac" ballots were deposited always showed a result against him.

GOING BEHIND $21,000 EVERY DAY

"Things in this country are too serious for any one party in British Columbia and we need someone of courage to lead," said Mr. Dick. "We want to be sure we can wake up in the morning without having been taxed out of our beds."

"For every day the province of British Columbia has been going behind $21,000. That means only one thing, a receivership in Victoria."

He said in Vancouver there were 33,000 in the bread line. Bonds in Canada were going down daily and in some cases cannot be sold at all.

"The city of Vancouver seethes with discontent and views with alarm the situation in Victoria," he added.

"There has never been such a time in the history of Canada as at the present time," said Mr. McGreggor.

"Everybody has been talking about our government. So a number of citizens got together to see what could be done."

Mr. McGreggor told of the negotiations a year ago with representatives of the commercial bodies of the province. It was urged that the government had to stop spending money, but it has been going on spending as before.

"If Mr. Bowser gets as much respect elsewhere as he gets here, I think he will accept the leadership of a non-political party," Mr. McGreggor said.

"Even ministers of the crown agree should be union government. They have been trying for months, but they do not seem to get anywhere. The trouble is I cannot tell, and nobody seems able to tell."

"It is too bad to see this province go to pieces and that is where it is going unless some action is taken by the citizens."

"People have been so busy with their private affairs they have not taken time for public affairs, and therefore their affairs have been left in the hands of professional politicians who have played upon the government and its credit. That is why we are in the position we find ourselves in to-day."

"There is no more room or money for politics of the sort we have had. That is why we are here to-night as a non-political party."

Dr. G. A. B. Hall of Nanaimo, introduced as a former Liberal member, said he expressed up-land that personal and party prejudice should give way to the good of the state. He quoted The Nanaimo Herald to the effect that the crisis could not be met by party government. He referred to the enormous debt the politicians have loaded upon the province of British Columbia and declared the citizens had to take action to save this province from bankruptcy. He spoke of what had been done to re-establish the national security in Great Britain and South Africa.

"If we are launching a new political move we must have a leader," he went on. "That leader must be a man who is not afraid to tell the truth, who is not afraid to go where the people are, and who counts service as a privilege."

"I do not know a man who is better qualified and experienced to guide the ship of state, buffeted by wind and tide than Mr. Bowser," Dr. Hall went on. "We want a political rebaptism of faith, honesty and fair dealing as citizens in the appalling financial deficit of five or seven million of dollars."

He ended by expressing the desire of up-land people to have Mr. Bowser lead them out of the wilderness.

"We want a political rebaptism of faith, honesty and fair dealing as citizens in the appalling financial deficit of five or seven million of dollars."

He ended by expressing the desire of up-land people to have Mr. Bowser lead them out of the wilderness.

Dr. G. A. B. Hall of Nanaimo, introduced as a former Liberal member, said he expressed up-land that personal and party prejudice should give way to the good of the state. He quoted The Nanaimo Herald to the effect that the crisis could not be met by party government. He referred to the enormous debt the politicians have loaded upon the province of British Columbia and declared the citizens had to take action to save this province from bankruptcy. He spoke of what had been done to re-establish the national security in Great Britain and South Africa.

SCRIP ISSUE NOT LAWFUL

Bank Act Forbids It, Clerk Tells Municipal Officers' Association at Luncheon

Because of Section 138 of the Bank Act, there was no such thing as the legal issue of scrip, declared J. G. Farmer, municipal clerk of Surrey, B.C., in an address on "The Issuance of Scrip," delivered before the Municipal Officers' Association in Spencer's private dining room yesterday.

"With regard to the question of the issuance of scrip in Canada," said Mr. Farmer, after mentioning several United States schemes, "I am of the opinion that with the limitations imposed by the Bank Act, the utmost that a municipal scrip issue in this country can be made to do is to ensure the carrying out of public works that the corporation has first made sure it can afford out of revenue, or out of the proceeds of debentures authorized but not sold, without having to first go out and borrow the money."

"Except to the extent of the saving effected in bank interest on temporary loans, it cannot improve the financial position of any municipality which may be in difficulty. The municipalities that are in the best position to issue scrip are the ones that have the least need of it."

"Municipalities are faced with the problem of making expenditures come within revenue, and the issuance of scrip will not (except in the matter of bank interest) reduce the former or increase the latter. It is purely and simply a method of temporary financing until taxes are paid, without having to pay interest for the accommodation."

In commenting on the policy of the city of Grand Rapids, Michigan, which returned to a direct relief scheme after looking after its jobless through public works projects, Mr. Farmer said:

"The city of Grand Rapids found that scrip, though immediately redeemable in food and goods, must sooner or later be backed by cash. It also found that by fixing a rate of remuneration which competed with other industries, there was a tendency on the part of the employed to treat the scheme as a means of permanent employment by the city, rather than a temporary assistance until such time as other employment became available, with the result that, although the city was possibly getting full value in the way of public works, it was eventually employing more men and carrying out more public works than it could pay for, and found it cheaper to give direct relief, than to expand the revenue of the corporation or other body issuing it, and that the total scrip issue must not exceed the amount ascertained as being or becoming available out of revenue for the work that are to be paid for temporarily in scrip."

In addition to discussing scrip under the heading of utility, the speaker mentioned the need for security when issuing it. He said:

Scrip, just as in the case of any other cash obligation, he said, must eventually be met by a cash payment, and before making any issuance of scrip the following matters must be carefully considered: The probable revenue for the year from all sources, the amounts required to meet current accounts necessary to be paid in cash, the amounts required to meet fixed charges, the extent to which the school board, police commissioners, park boards, or other spending bodies who rely on the municipal council for their revenue, are able to co-operate in the use of scrip.

In addition, he said, the amount of the "carry over" (if any) on the previous year's bank loan must be taken into consideration, as this constitutes a charge upon all taxes collected, and until the bank loan is fully met, it is doubtful if any tax collections can be diverted to meet payment of scrip.

Collections, other than taxes, would be available for the purpose.

"In my own experience with scrip," he said, "the issue was made pending the sale in Great Britain of a very large block of debentures in the hypothesis of which the bank were not prepared to advance us as much money or as a substitute for money."

Section 138 of the Bank Act, covering the scrip problem, was read to the meeting, as follows:

"Every person, except a bank, to which this act applies, who issues or reissues, makes, draws or endorses any bill, bond, note, cheque or other instrument, intended to circulate as money, or to be used as a substitute for money, for any amount whatsoever, shall incur a penalty of $400."

"Such penalty shall be recoverable with costs, in any court of competent jurisdiction, by any person who sues for the same."

"A moiety of such penalty shall belong to the person suing for the same, and the other moiety to His Majesty for the public use of Canada."

"If any such instrument is made for the payment of a less sum than $20, and is payable either in form or in fact to the bearer thereof, or at sight, or on demand, or at less than thirty days thereafter, or is overdue, or is in any way calculated or designed for circulation, or as a substitute for money, the intention to pass the same as money shall be presumed, unless such instrument is (a) a cheque on some chartered bank paid by the maker directly to his immediate creditor; or

(b) a promissory note, bill of exchange, bond or other undertaking for the payment of money made or delivered by the maker thereof to his immediate creditor; and

(c) not designed to circulate as money or as a substitute for money."

Why stay RUN-DOWN?

Fruit-a-tives give new life

"The only thing that makes me feel better now is the thought that for years I struggled along in a run-down condition, when, if I had known about Fruit-a-tives, I could have been well. I was constipated, bilious and suffered greatly from severe headaches. Fruit-a-tives loved me up generally. They really have done me the world of good."

REV. A. RODDAN WILL LECTURE

Review of Economic Conditions to Be Given at First United

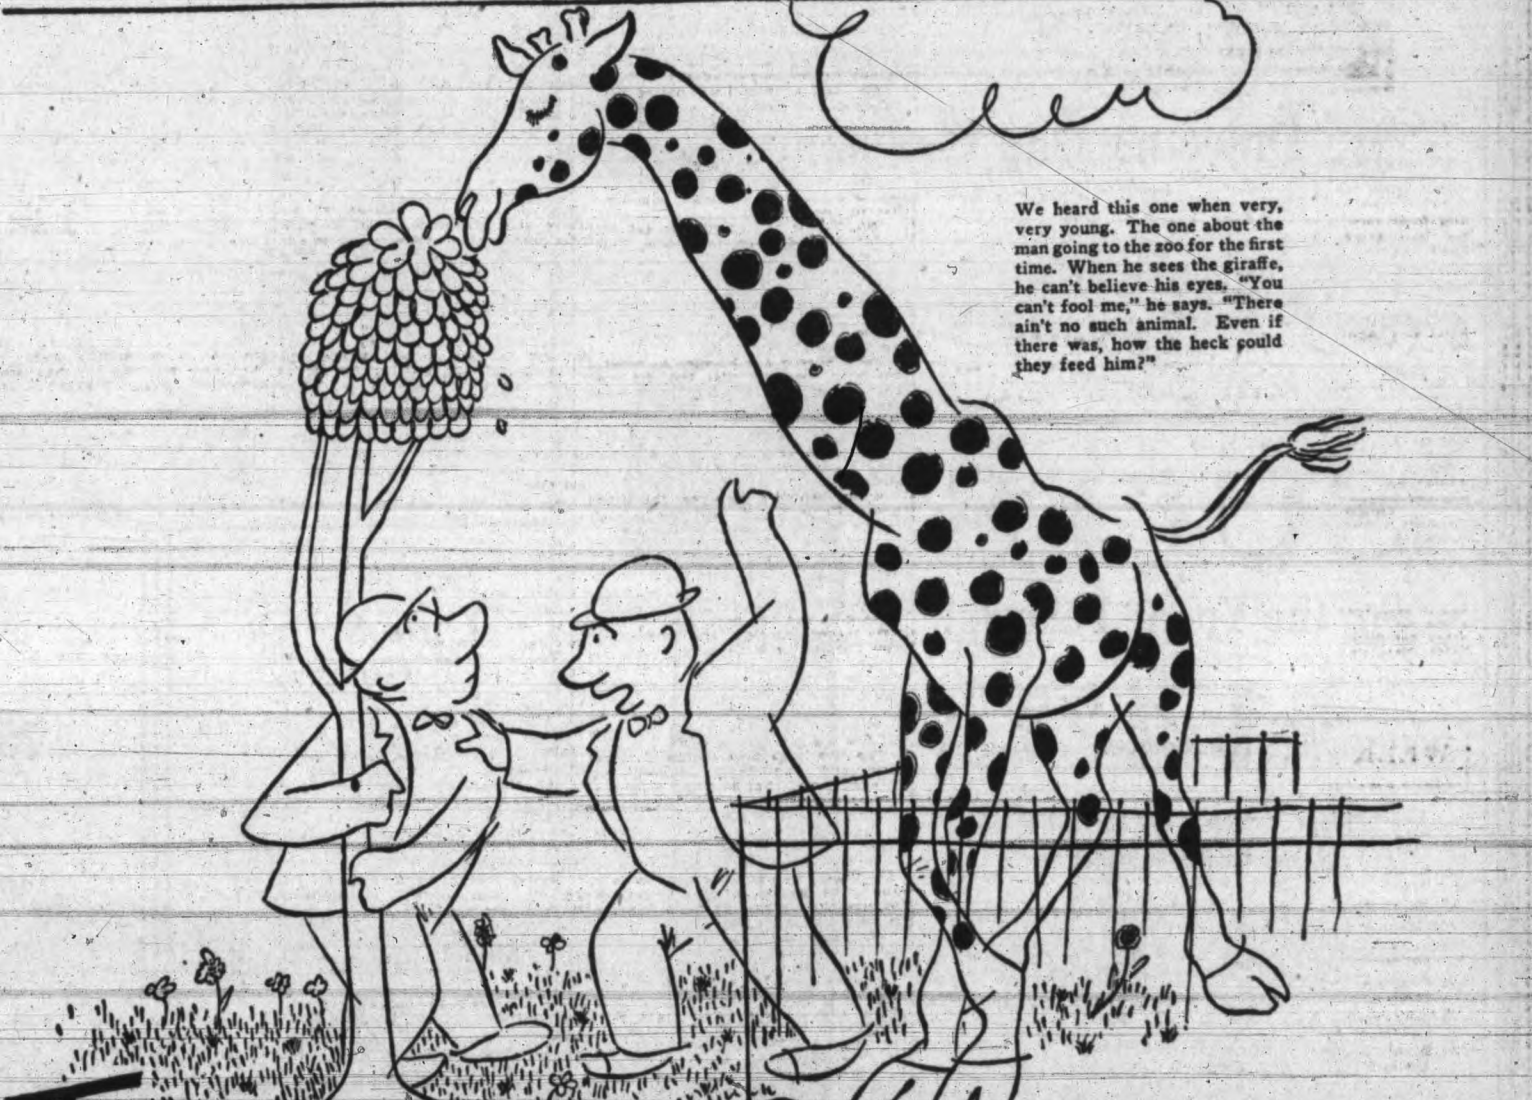

Rev. Andrew Roddan, popular radio preacher of First United Church, Vancouver, will lecture this evening in First United Church. His subject, "Ten Thousand Miles Across Canada," will be a description of his recent extensive tour of eastern cities in Canada and the United States. One hundred covered slides will be used.

Mr. Roddan is leader of the Goodwill Industries in Vancouver and is author of "Canada's Untouchables" and "God in the Jungles."

The free will offering will be devoted to relief purposes.

Through Goodwill Industries of First United Church, Vancouver, 25,554 people have been assisted, 10,000 calls were made, 10,596 hours of opportunity labor were given and 5,297 people received free assistance. Thirty-six nationalities were represented.

The purpose of Goodwill Industries is to collect discarded materials of all

THERE AIN'T NO SUCH ANIMAL

(Please excuse us for using this old story—But it helps to make a point)

IF YOU WANT to steal the spotlight in this car-driving Dominion . . . bring out an automobile . . . that's really NEW!

You'll start more rumors than a party-line telephone . . . You'll have the industry shouting, "Stop! You're rocking the boat!" You'll have hard-pressed competing salesmen saying, "It just isn't possible. There ain't no such animal!"

We know. Because Plymouth has done just that!

We admit there's a lot about Plymouth that's startling . . . and hard to believe.

Back in 1930, for instance, who would have thought that a new car could come within reaching distance of First Place in the low-price field . . . in the space of two short years?

Who would have thought . . . with two old-established cars in the field . . . that this newcomer would be the only car to increase its sales in 1932?

Or who would have dreamed . . . even ninety days ago . . . that today you could buy, for $675 f.o.b. . . .

A SIX with a 70-horsepower rating, and a 75-mile top-speed . . . by stop-watch!

A SIX with Patented Floating Power engine mountings . . . which have proved that they end all vibration!

A SIX that is stronger in every part . . . yet easier on gas, oil and tires . . . because 300 pounds of useless dead weight have been taken out by scientific and energetic engineering!

A SIX that has a modern steel body . . . safe as a modern steel railroad car.

A SIX with self-equalizing hydraulic brakes—like those on hard-driven modern taxicabs, and drums that reduce relining jobs 50% to 75%!

A SIX which, alone in its price-class, has tool-steel valve inserts that save the car owner from $10 to $30 a year on valve grinding!

Yes . . . who would ever have thought it possible?

Yet here it is . . . the new Plymouth Six . . . with all these features and more. Features that save you money . . . that mean safety for your family . . . that give you big-car performance . . . big-car comfort at $35 less, on the sedan, than the nearest competing Six.

So when an ax-grinding salesman murmurs: "They've shortened the wheel base" . . . you can answer: "It's just as roomy as your car, Mister!"

If he hints: "It's lighter . . . by 300 pounds" . . . you can truthfully say, "That's the kind of engineering that cuts my gas, oil and tire bills."

If he suggests: "We've got engine mountings as good as Floating Power" . . . you might just say, "No thanks, I prefer the original which has been thoroughly tested. I want Patented Floating Power with Rigid-X Frame . . . not an experimental imitation."

And when he falls back on: "There ain't no such animal!" . . . we'll be glad to have you tell him "I'll just look at all three low-priced cars . . . I'll take a ride in them . . . and let the best car win my business!"

AND UP F.O.B. FACTORY, WINDSOR, ONTARIO . . . FLOATING POWER HYDRAULIC BRAKES . . . QUILITE SPRINGS . . . ALL STEEL BODIES DOUBLE-DROP RIGID X-TYPE FRAME . . . VALVE SEAT INSERTS

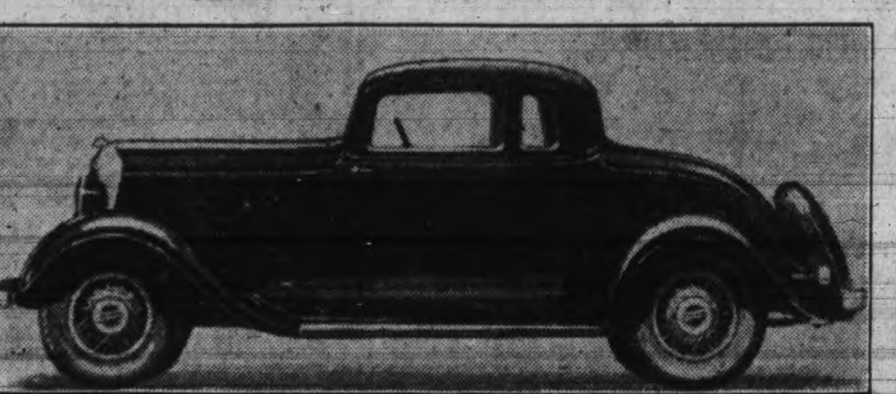

Bad Case of Pimples Over a Year. Healed by Cuticura.

"I had a bad case of pimples and blackheads. The pimples were very hard, large and red and were all over my face. The itching and burning caused me to scratch, and bothered me at night. I had the trouble over a year."

"I tried different remedies but they did not help me. I started using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and the pimples began to disappear. I continued the treatment and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Leander Gerrior, Charles Cove, N. S., Aug. 12, 1931.

REEVE CROUCH HEADS UNION

Saanich Chief Magistrate Chosen to Lead British Columbia Municipalities

Victoria Selected Again For Convention City in 1934

REEVE WILLIAM CROUCH

Reeve William Crouch of Saanich was elected president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities by a unanimous vote at the final session of the annual convention yesterday afternoon.

He replaces ex-Reeve W. A. Pritchard of Burnaby in the position, having formerly served as vice-president. Mayor T. A. Love of Grand Forks was elevated from second to first vice-president and Mayor Leeming of Victoria was chosen second vice-president. Mayor A. Wells-Gray of New Westminster was reappointed secretary.

treasurer and G. E. Martin of New Westminster the union solicitor and parliamentary representative. The executive was balloted upon and chosen as follows: Commissioner Lane of Mission, Reeve R. C. McDonald of Coquitlam, Clerk R. F. Blandy of Oak Bay, Reeve Brown of Surrey, Comptroller A. J. Pilkington of Vancouver, Reeve Layland of West Vancouver, Reeve Musalem of Maple Ridge and Alderman George Miller of Vancouver.

Victoria was again selected as the convention city for 1934 over Harrison Hot Springs and Penticton. A vote of hearty thanks was extended to Mayor Love of Grand Forks for his energetic work as chairman of resolutions committee and to Reeve Musalem of Maple Ridge as chairman of the credentials committee.

SECOND TAX RELIEF PLAN

Civic Leaders Propose Extension of Redemption and Tax Sale Periods

Further relief for tax-paying property owners this year, in addition to a cut in the tax penalty endorsed during the morning session, was proposed and endorsed by the Union of B.C. Municipalities at the final sitting of their convention yesterday afternoon.

The points on which the union will apply for relief, through the provincial legislature are:

Extension of one year in the period for redemption of property from tax sale.

Extension of one year on the period in which property comes liable for tax sale through non-payment of taxes.

This would mean that when a person was two years in arrears on his taxes, his property would be kept out of tax sale for one more year instead of going up for sale in the third year.

The other clause would give him two years in which to redeem his property by paying interest and arrears instead of the one year allowed. There was considerable discussion on the resolution. It was pointed out that those on relief were receiving shelter allowances and if they owned their homes could pay taxes. Others who had not gone on the relief list were faced with the possibility of losing their homes through inability to meet the tax bills.

MANSON SEEKS IMPARTIALITY

Liberal Member Looks For Harmony in Public Accounts Committee of Legislature

The need for impartiality in the public accounts committee of the legislature was stressed by A. M. Manson, K.C., at an organization meeting yesterday morning.

Nothing of benefit could be accomplished were party lines to be adhered to, Mr. Manson said. He characterized the agricultural committee as a model of harmony, where everyone worked together and trusted the deliberations of the public accounts committee would follow along the same lines.

H. D. Twigg assured Mr. Manson there was no desire on the part of Conservatives to stifle any inquiry.

Vancouver and Lower Mainland Conservatives have agreed to return to Victoria Sunday night when the committee hearings get well under way in order to expedite the business before them. Dr. W. H. Southland anticipated that the session would last until Easter and suggested that Monday morning sessions would be necessary if all matters under consideration were to be dealt with.

It was agreed that the next meeting would be held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and thereafter on Monday mornings.

J. W. Berry was elected chairman of the committee, and Dr. C. M. Kingston, secretary.

DELAY ELECTIONS TO SAVE MONEY

Associated Press

Indianapolis, Ind., March 3.—Municipal elections in 102 Indiana cities and towns, scheduled for next November, will be postponed for a year under a bill passed by the Senate yesterday. It had already been passed by the Assembly. The act is designed to save approximately $300,000 by deferring the naming of new city officials until the 1934 general elections.

CAPITOL THEATRE

The usual fan conception of the life of a movie star does not hold water when applied to Loretta Young, who appears with Warren William in the Warner Bros. picture, "Employees' Entrance," now at the Capitol Theatre.
Loretta has no retinue of servants, cried chauffeur to drive her car. She lives very quietly with her mother and three sisters, and she drives her own modest coupe.
She attended premieres every now and then, particularly when they are of her own pictures. But most of her movie-going is done in just the same way as most girls in modest walks of life. She takes her mother and sisters, quite often to see the not too recent pictures at the neighborhood theatre.

BOARD TO FIX RATES ASKED

Municipal Union Sees Need For Public Utilities Commission in B.C.

After a discussion, led by Reeve R. C. McDonald of Coquitlam, the Union B.C. Municipalities yesterday afternoon decided to ask the government for appointment of a public utilities board to fix reasonable rates for services and to enforce terms of existing contracts.
It was proposed that in order to prevent setting up of additional government machinery, the board should consist of the commissioner of waterworks, the inspector of municipalities and the deputy attorney-general.
Reeve McDonald described how the municipality of Matsqui had fought the question of electric rates through all courts in Canada. He proposed that the Supreme Court should be fixed as the limit for such actions.
"If we could secure a water board it might reflect on every municipality in the province through lower rates," he added.

VICTORIA PLANS ARE ENDORSED

Two resolutions submitted by the Victoria City Council were endorsed by the Union of B.C. Municipalities yesterday morning.
One covered a proposed amendment to the Municipal Act by which the city may give relief on the boulevard charges on corner lots.
The other affirms the Shops Regulation Act, providing for an amendment which would take away the possibility of a few proprietors of businesses who had paid licenses, forcing, by petition, other businesses in the same class of business.

WILL PERFORM TO-NIGHT

Thelma Stratford and Kathleen Gregson, who are appearing in the dance revue presented by the Florence Clough Dancing Academy to-night at the Motor Show.

BIG ORCHESTRA HERE TO-DAY

Twenty-seven Piece Group Under C. Winter Give Concerts at Armories

A big feature at the Spring Motor Show in the Armories this evening will be the high-class musical programme to be given by the twenty-seven-piece Vancouver orchestra under Calvin Winter, which will commence playing at 9:30 o'clock. This orchestra is a great favorite with radio fans and has made a favorable impression on its previous appearances here.
Two more concerts will be given by the musical organization during the show, one at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and another at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening.
The Home Oil Company is sponsoring the tour of its orchestra to the Capital City. Many up-to-date dance rhythms, popular selections and semi-classical compositions will be included in the orchestra's programmes.

"OUTWARD BOUND" DATES ARE SET

Victoria Little Theatre Association to Present Play on April 28

April 28 and 29 were selected by the executive of the Victoria Little Theatre Association for the presentation of their next production, "Outward Bound," a three-act drama, at a meeting held Wednesday evening at the association's rooms, 1160, Burdette Avenue.
The executive of the association states that "Outward Bound" is an ambitious production and will be under the direction of Leslie Lamb, who will be remembered for his work in "B.B.R." last year.
Final arrangements were completed for the production of "Outward Bound" by Merrill Denison, in the Dominion Drama Festival competition in Victoria on Thursday, March 9. This play will feature such well-known players as Betty Hetherington, Arthur Kerr and Leslie Hardie. It was also decided to enter a play in the B.C. Drama Festival in May. "Brothers in Arms" will be directed by L. Hurn.
A varied programme was given at the meeting, under the capable direction of Miss Ella Pottinger. Drama, music and dancing were represented. Those taking part were: Miss D. Cox, Miss G. Cox, Miss A. Gilles, Miss A. Barr, Miss M. Davenport, Miss M. Thompson, Miss C. McNab, Mrs. H. C. Pearce, Helen Quirt, Margaret Swanson and George Love.
In the near future an association's informal dance will be held at the association's headquarters, when all active members may meet.

"Berkeley Square" Staged To-night

"Berkeley Square" will be presented to-night and to-morrow night by the Beaux Arts at the Shrine Auditorium in front of the women's workroom.
The play is a worthy success to "The Mask and the Face" last year's production of the Beaux Arts. It is in costume of the period of 1784. "The Success of this drama in London is noted by the reviews of leading English critics, among them The London Times. There is magic in this play, enough to set it apart from the common traffic of the theatre, and to send it scudding in the wake of dramatic art.
The costumes and furniture will be as nearly similar to the eighteenth century era as possible. Miss Elton Muirhead and Miss Alison Culham have had charge of the properties. The portrait of Peter Standish, played by Henry Worthington, essential to the theme of the play, has been painted by Robin Watt, well-known artist.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Tim McCoy is one movie star who is never harassed by the lack of strong stories. His latest, the Columbia picture, "End of the Trail," which is showing at the Columbia Theatre, is heralded as the most ambitious "Western" since "The Covered Wagon" and "The Vanishing American."
Directed by D. Ross Lederman from the story by Stuart Anthony, "End of the Trail" brings McCoy to the screen as a disgraced army cavalry officer who makes his account of their words in a series of action thrills that dwarf any similar scenes ever attempted for picture purposes.

"MAGIC NIGHT" AT THE EMPIRE

"Magic Night," starring Jack Buchanan, is at the Empire Theatre.
Moviegoers will remember Buchanan for his inimitable work in "Monte Carlo" and also in "Paris" with Irene Bordoni and "The Show of Shows," of recent memory.

"Magic Night" introduces England's new reigning cinema queen—Anna Neagle. This young woman has hit genuine heights in Europe, and her charm is confidently expected to make her captivation of movie audiences world wide.

Incidentally, Anna Neagle has appeared upon Broadway.

"Magic Night" is an original story by Holt Marvell to which George Posford wedded several melodious songs. Two of these are, of the hit variety, and already thousands in America are whistling and humming them. They are destined to be heard from every quarter for months.

The story has to do with a young Austrian count who finds life ex-

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

Politics and reform, the women's vote and crooked officials, mingle in a hilarious blend in "Politics," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new comedy-drama in which Marie Dressler makes her first bow as a full-fledged screen star at the Playhouse Theatre.
Marie and the redoubtable Polly Moran go into politics to clean up the town, organize the women and get them to go on strike until their husbands capitulate to their political ideas. Marie sweeps into office, cleans out the crooked mayor, routs the gangs and triumphs.
Torchlight processions, political rallies, the political machinations of the underworld and other vivid details embellish the picture. There is a tense little drama, too, so that Miss Dressler has a chance for some of the character work that endeared her in "Min and Bill" and "Anna Christie."

MESSAGE SENT BY SHORT WAVE

A radio message from an operator in the vicinity of Dease Lake, near the northern British Columbia boundary, has been received by G. A. Brown, of Carroll Street, Victoria, who is a mining man working during the summer on McName Creek, which flows into Dease River.

When Mr. Brown came south, he left the short wave receiving and sending set he owns in the north in charge of George Crisp, manager of the Hudson's Bay Store. Mr. Crisp conveyed some information to Mr. Brown by way of short wave to Dr. Hocking of Prince George, who relayed it to John Cassillo, a short wave amateur here. Mr. Cassillo then communicated with Mr. Brown.

The Dease River is a tributary of the Fraser River. It is a very important river in saving the life of Frank Crawford, superintendent of McName Creek Mines, who was severely burned last July and who was brought back to health after a plane summoned by short wave had arrived on the scene with the necessary facilities.

Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.British Driver Announces Desire to Make Attempt on Western Canada Course

Suitable Location May Be Found on Prairies; Set New Mark on February 22

Great interest was aroused throughout Canada to-day following a Canadian Press dispatch from Toronto stating that Sir Malcolm Campbell, famous British automobile racing driver, and holder of the world land speed record of 272.16 miles an hour, established at Daytona Beach, Florida, on February 22, was looking to western Canada for his next assault on the open mark. The article further stated Sir Malcolm will pilot his Bluebird in another attempt if a suitable course can be found and has in mind particularly the prairies.

Definite word that Sir Malcolm is anxious to secure a course in Canada revived the possibility of making a speed run on Long Beach, located on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. However, after making an investigation of this location to-day, it was found it would be impossible to utilize the beach for such a purpose. Officials of the Dominion Hydrographic Survey Branch, of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, stated the beach located near Tofino was only five and a half miles long with only two miles straightaway available. Campbell needs at least nine miles to make a record attempt, which eliminates all hopes of a run at Long Beach. Invitations to Sir Malcolm to bring his car to the Pacific Coast for a run on Long Beach were extended by the Boards of Trade of Nanaimo and Port Alberni last year, but at that time Campbell had already decided to drive his car over the sands at Daytona Beach.

Sir Malcolm is now en route to his home in England having sailed from New York on board the S.S. Aquitania on Wednesday.

In a letter to Captain C. D. Browne of this city, Sir Malcolm writes: "I do wish you would endeavor to ascertain whether it would be possible to find a suitable track somewhere in Canada where an attempt at the world's land speed record could be made. The course should be level and the track should be absolutely smooth and the distance required would be twelve miles, the longer, of course, the better. It does not matter if the course curves slightly at either end of the run, but ten miles should be absolutely straight."

He has run on sand many times and on hard-baked mud in South Africa, and I thought it should be possible to find a course somewhere on the prairie which could be made suitable at a comparatively small cost.

I would undertake to go out and beat the present record with my car if only a suitable course could be found. Some years ago, prior to the speed attempts of Sir Henry Seagrave and Kaye Don at Daytona Beach, Fla., requests came from British Columbia to have them make their runs on a long sandy beach there.

On the prairies motorists have found that because of the heavy gumbo soil the earth packs hard and the surface bakes, permitting high speeds.

Premier's Silence On Union Ominous

Failure to Make Announcement to Legislature Subject of Discussion

WORK'S MINISTER POSITION AIRD Speculation as to Whether Government Leader Has Dropped Plan

Hon. R. W. Bruhn's outspoken plea for union government, presence of William Dick, Vancouver Conservative, on W. J. Bowser's platform yesterday evening, and G. A. Walker's open break with the party are features brought sharply into the limelight as Premier Tolmie's plans form the subject of considerable speculation at the Parliament Buildings.

Premier Tolmie's absence from the House when his minister of Works made the important announcement that was expected to come from the lips of the government leader himself, and the silence of the Premier on the subject, have been discussed from all angles.

Whether the Premier has retreated from his position through failure to receive the endorsement of the House, or whether he is withholding his announcement to a later date are questions that are being asked. Although the House has listened attentively to no ministers of the government were noticed applauding Mr. Bruhn, J. W. Cornett, Conservative whip, R. Hayward and J. H. Beatty, Victoria Conservatives, were among the few Conservatives who indicated they were in sympathy with him, although Dr. C. M. Kingston, Conservative, Grand Forks, has since come out as a supporter of Mr. Bruhn's plan.

Admission of Mr. Bruhn's fearlessness is voiced in some quarters. Mr. Bruhn is it is freely remarked, showing courage enough to place his future as a minister of the government at stake. Should Premier Tolmie fail to go ahead with his union government plan, it is considered impossible that Mr. Bruhn can remain as a minister of the government headed by the present leader.

The Vancouver Province editorially remarks that it was Premier Tolmie who should have drawn the line clear so that no public representative could be taken in by the union plan. "Premier Tolmie," the editorial says, "has left it all to be said by his immigrant Minister of Works, and the adopted son of British Columbia is revealed as a more outspoken patriot than the native son and the honored descendant of pioneers."

Supporters of the union government plan have expressed disappointment that the Premier should not have seized the first opportunity to make a pronouncement in the Legislature. His comprehensive speech in the debate on the Speech from the Throne covered scores of subjects.

While the census of hope in Denmark and the bacon market of England may be matters of importance, commented one member, they are not matters of immediate concern. What he wanted to know and expected to learn from the Premier was how he is going along with his union government plan. How a union government

EFFECT OF DUTY ON GAS PRICE

Civic Leaders Think Removal of Tariff Would Reduce Rates

Gasoline prices were discussed at some length by the Union of B.C. Municipalities which finally decided to petition the federal and provincial government for removal of the duty on gasoline.

Reeve Mussalem of Maple Ridge led the movement, declaring the duty was protecting U.S. companies selling gasoline in Canada. He said people of Canada were paying from seven to nine cents more per gallon than was necessary.

Reeve Patterson of Delta said that if the gas price was not too high, he wondered how it was the oil companies could build big stations all over the country and still show a handsome profit.

From Penticton, Reeve Oliver told how four companies were now engaged in the gas business there in place of one which supplied the trade adequately a few years ago. It seemed to be a profitable business and the public was making it so by standing for high rates, he added.

Midget Wolgast Most Unballyhooded Champion in Fight Game

Has Met Four Champions in Climb to Present Position

Victory Over Jackie Brown Will Give Him World Recognition

WITHOUT a doubt, the fastest left jab in boxing belongs to that dapper little fellow known as Midget Wolgast, Philadelphia, champion, so New York's boxing commission decrees, of the world flyweight fighters. Yet the Midget, a really great little scrapper for his poundage, is probably the least known, and the most unballyhooded champ in the first game.

"I'll tell you why," said Jimmy Coster, his manager. "There are no good flyweights in New York. There is none in Philadelphia except Midget. Chicago has none. There just aren't any anywhere, except on the Pacific Coast." Wolgast has made four trips to the Pacific Coast and beaten such well-known fighters as Speedy Dado, Young Tommy and others.

This mite of a boy—he's only twenty-two and can make 115 pounds without the slightest difficulty—has engaged in something over 200 professional fights, but never an amateur bout, in six years of ring campaigning. He has been beaten twice, by Newsboy Brown in 1928 and Phil Tobias in 1930. Since the loss to Tobias, he has beaten him four times. Likewise, the score with Brown has been evened.

He has met four champions in the climb to his present position. Corporal Terry Schwartz, the boss of the flyweights, was his twelfth opponent, and his twelfth victim. He boxed fifteen rounds to a draw decision with Frankie Genaro, then N.B.A. champion. He knocked out Speedy Dado, California flyweight ruler, and he polished off Chato Lero, Mexican flyweight champion.

It plans go through Wolgast will fight Jackie Brown, England, late this month at Madison Square Garden. Brown is the recognized N.B.A. flyweight champion. Perhaps after he beats Brown, the Midget will get the recognition he merits.

There is an interesting angle to the Midget's rise to a place in the title sun. A few weeks ago Bobby Wolgast, a great flyweight in the days when Pancho Villa ruled the roost, but a "punch drunk" victim of the ring these last few months, submitted to an experimental operation in a Philadelphia hospital.

Two well-known doctors believed they had a cure. An operation was performed on his spine, air was pumped to his brain to relieve the pressure on what the surgeons said was a brain concussion, caused by frequent beatings about the head.

Bobby in his heyday, also was managed by Jimmy Coster. There was a little Italian kid, Joseph Locasolo, champion junior flyweight, who fought Philadelphia gym where Bobby trained. The kid worshipped Bobby. Secretly, he would square off with imaginary opponents and imitate Bobby's style. This was more than six years ago.

Meantime, the little Italian kid talked to Coster. Boxing drills followed. Within a short time he was no longer Joseph Locasolo. He became Midget Wolgast, a copy of the idol. And he has been winning ever since.

Did you know that—Jim Bauch believes he can raise fourteen feet in a month's training. Just seven men have cleared fourteen feet. Three of them Yale University men, Carr, Sturdy and Brown. . . the others, Garber and Barnes of Southern California, Miller of Stanford and Nishida of Japan. . .

Jim weighs 220 pounds, but believes that by arduous work on the parallel bars he can put the necessary power into his arms to hoist all that beef right up to the second story. . . Jim says the practice of chinning himself with one hand is a great help to his vaulting. . . just to add this paragraph on a happy note, it might be said that Jim has a vaulting ambition.

Belief pitters. . . the take their time sunstaring from the bull pen to the pitcher's mound in the International League are to be fined $5. They must respond to their summons immediately and complete their warm-up in the box.

Muddy Ruel, new catcher for the St. Louis Browns, is the oldest active catcher in the American League. He is thirty-seven.

In the second game Colwood's "B" will meet the Lake Hill seniors. The senior Colwood team will oppose the Lake Hill K. of P. in the final game.

To-morrow evening, at Lake Hill Road Hall, Colwood senior men will meet West Road intermediates, and the Standard Standard Laundry will play the Royal Oak Maroons, the first game starting at 8 o'clock.

JUVENILE SOCCER

Sanwich Rangers will play Hollywood at Reynolds Road; and Oak Bay will meet Five O's at Oak Bay Park. In to-morrow's two juvenile soccer games, both fixtures will start at 1:30 o'clock.

Victoria Wineries and Cameron Lumber To Take Out Franchises

Will Replace Elks and Green Mill in Victoria Senior Amateur League

Sons and Tillicums Will Compete Again

Annual Meeting of League Will Be Held To-night at "Y" at 8 o'clock

Prospects for the coming amateur baseball season look rosy with four teams as certain starters. Followers of this popular summer sport will watch a couple of new teams in action this year, according to an announcement made this morning by league officials. Two of last year's leading outfits, the Elks and Green Mill, will be out of the league and their franchises are to be taken over by the Victoria Wineries and the Cameron Lumber Company, respectively. These clubs, along with the Sons of Canada and Tillicums, will complete the league. The last two named teams were in the league last year.

To make plans for the approaching season, select officers for the league and discuss baseball conditions in general, the annual meeting of the Victoria Senior Amateur Baseball League will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-night, starting at 8 o'clock. President R. A. Hunt will occupy the chair.

WILL CREATE INTEREST

Added interest will be taken in the league race with two new clubs in the running. Both the Wineries and Cameron will be entering the baseball field for the first time. The former will most likely operate their club under the name of Slingers. They entered local sports for the first time this winter, sponsoring a men's senior B basketball team in the Victoria and District League. This quintette has already captured the city and Lower Island titles and bids fair to lift the island championship.

With the Elks and Green Mill out of the picture, there will be plenty of surplus ball players around and the new clubs are not expected to experience any difficulty getting men. In the meantime, the Sons and Tillicums are busy signing up men for another campaign. It is expected both these aggregations will field practically the same line-ups as in 1932.

OPEN SEASON IN MAY

Opening of the season will likely take place in May with the league schedule operating until August. A play-off will then take place for the league championship with the winner representing the Victoria League in the British Columbia championships, staged under the auspices of the British Columbia Amateur Baseball Association.

Work on the diamond at the Athletic Park will get started as soon as the fine weather makes its appearance, and the park will be ready for the baseballers to usher their season in a little over two months.

Edmonton Superiors Win Alberta Title

Defeat Calgary Bronks 4 to 3 After Twenty Minutes Overtime to Capture Provincial Championship; Port Arthur Whips Fort William After Extra Play

Edmonton, March 3.—While 5,000 fans fidgeted uneasily in the seats at the Arena yesterday evening with alternate thrills and chills, Edmonton Superiors and Calgary Bronks battled for twenty minutes overtime before the senior amateur hockey championship of the province was settled—the decision going to the "Soops" by a score of 4 to 3.

As a result of their win the Superiors made it two straight, took the round by an aggregate count of 7 to 5 and earned the right to represent Alberta in the Allan Cup playdowns.

Winnipeg, March 3.—Kenora Thistles defeated Winnipeg 2 to 1 here yesterday evening to take a lead in Winnipeg's Junior Hockey League championship series. Stew Smith and Ab Kerr scored for the Ontario team and Bill Cunningham, bruising defenseman, accounted for the lone Winnipeg goal.

The series is best two out of three games and the first contest ended in a 3 to 1 draw. All games will be played on Winnipeg ice but the date of the third has yet to be set.

CALDER COMES OUT OF SHELL WITH PROPHECY

N.H.L. President Forecasts Ten Clubs For Major Hockey Next Season

Says Franchise Will Be Sold For $50,000; Game Has Gripped Fans in U.S.

New York, March 3.—The New York Telegram yesterday published the following in its columns: "The sphinx has spoken."

"Frank Calder, President of the National Hockey League for the last sixteen years has broken his great silence."

Ordinarily Calder considers himself verbose if he says yes or no. Cheered, however, by a unanimous vote of confidence from the governors Wednesday and an unqualified triumph over Charles (Boston) Adams, he expanded nobly.

"The Montrealer began by prophesying the league would be increased to ten clubs next season. A franchise will be sold for approximately $50,000, and this, he declares, is a sure sign professional hockey is steadily mounting the financial ladder."

"You New Yorkers are really hockey conscious now," he said. "Hockey in the United States has a greater hold on its public than baseball. A fanciful statement, you say, but a statement borne out by figures."

HIGHER RECEIPTS

"Even in these times hockey receipts are getting bigger. As far as beating the depression is concerned, no sport can hold a candle to our game. Hockey is still in its infancy. Watch us grow."

"It amuses Calder when somebody remarks United States fans call the play-offs silly. He replied: 'They're no sillier to you than they were in the beginning to the Canadians, but I notice they're still selling local tickets. That is enough argument for me.'"

"Calder likes the judge-of-play-of-officiating system. In his opinion, it centralizes responsibility. But he won't be satisfied until there is only one official on the ice. He has been trying to sell the governors that theory, but hasn't succeeded yet."

NAME NANAIMO TEAM FOR GAME AGAINST NAVY

Entry of Coal City in Knock-out Rugby Series To-morrow Renews Historic Series

COLLEGE TO MEET GUNNERS AT HIGH

Five Games Comprise Card For To-morrow; Two Intermediate Matches Included

History will be repeating itself to-morrow when a Nanaimo all-star senior rugby team makes its re-appearance in Victoria after several years lay-off to meet the Navy in the feature match on the Cowichan Cup knockout series at Athletic Park. In the other knockout fixture, Oak Bay Wanderers will face the Canadian Scottish at Oak Bay Park.

In league matches, Victoria College will battle Fifth Brigade for the second half senior B title at Victoria High School grounds, while the University School opposes the Scottish and Victoria College plays the Wanderers at Mount Tomlin and Oak Bay Park respectively in the intermediate division. All games, with the exception of the College fixtures, are scheduled to start at 3 o'clock. The College teams will take the field half an hour later.

Some of the earliest rugby played in Victoria saw Nanaimo and Navy teams clash. The miners, in days gone by, usually put up a great fight against the more experienced sailors. Ship members of the British Navy.

Early this season the coal city sent down a partial intermediate team to play Victoria College, but the appearance of the squad to-morrow will be the first senior fifteen that has made the trip down the island for a major fixture in actual league play.

VISITING TEAM

The Nanaimo boys will be represented by W. Eastbrook, fullback; D. Kirkbride, T. Parsons, N. Huddleston and W. Gordon, three-quarters; J. Eastbrook and T. Eastbrook, half-backs; D. Shaw, F. Dawkins, C. Fiddick, M. Pates, I. Alken, J. Neen, G. Blank and L. Dobinson, forwards. A. Dunn and T. Haley will be reserves and L. Eastbrook, manager.

While they are not expected to defeat the sailors, strengthened by the return of some of their stars aboard H.M.C.S. Vancouver, the Nanaimo boys should put up a good fight.

Last Sunday the up-landers downed the Victoria Garrison team and have had considerable experience playing against Vancouver and Victoria teams in exhibition attractions.

Respective of the outcome, the local rugby union is looking to Victorians to port the visitors with a good attendance at the park to-morrow.

Local Hoop Teams Play at Nanaimo

On the last lap of a journey they expect to take them to the Vancouver island senior basketball championship, Bangers will go to Nanaimo this evening for their second home-and-home encounter with the up-landers. The winery boys will take the floor with a 44 to 26 edge and are virtually sure of scoring the laurels.

Ravallines, senior B girls city champions will accompany them for their first game for the island honors against a Nanaimo women's team. The locals are relatively favorites. The second of their two games will be played here on Wednesday evening when the Nanaimo girls will pass the Adanahs on the road to the Coal City for their final fixture in the junior boys' series.

Noel Cameron Wins In Cue Tournament

Playing in the city amateur billiard championship yesterday evening at the Metropolis Billiard Parlor Noel Cameron defeated Jack Noble 400 to 301. After going out in front at the 100 mark Cameron increased his margin as the game progressed.

Two games will be played to-night with the following draw:

7 p.m.—J. H. Curtis vs. A. Leeming

9 p.m.—S. Oakes vs. W. Long.

Detroit, March 3.—Backed by the stellar work of Goalie Johnny Clark and the fast skating of Gus Marner, Detroit Olympians yesterday evening fought London Teemuhs to a 2 to 2 tie in their International Hockey League match here.

ahead rapidly in athletics after passing through the doldrums during the last few years and are reported to have several fast men on their squad. They are said to be in excellent condition.

The Scottish-Wanderers will bring together two rivals of the local Senior A League and a good match is anticipated as they clash at Oak Bay Park.

Apart from the knockout play the Victoria College-Gunners second half Senior B final at the High School grounds will be the outstanding game of the day.

James Bay Athletic Association Senior A and Senior B squads, winners of the first division city honors and first-half second division title respectively, will meet in a practice match at the Cauteen grounds.

The seniors will line-up as follows: Latta, Burnings, Patrick, Dunn, Turgoose, Addison, Murray, Brown, Sprinkling, Peard, Lemm, Goad, Pettigrew, De Blaquiere and Ueber.

J. B. Acland will referee the Nanaimo-Vancouver game. H. A. Tomalin the Canadian Scottish-Wanderers fixture. C. Ley the College-Gunners final. F. B. Derbyshire the College-Wanderers match and Aubrey Walls the University School-Canadian Scottish tussle.

ENGLISH GAMES MUCH IN DOUBT

British Football Teams Engaged In Cup Competitions

English and Scottish Clubs Battle in Important Matches To-morrow

ENGLISH GAMES MUCH IN DOUBT

Winner of Scottish Cup Expected to Emerge From Kilmarnock-Motherwell Game

London, March 3.—Victory by Everton over Luton Town stood out to-day as the only English Cup quarter-final result predictable with any degree of certainty. The sturdy first division outfit are overwhelming favorites to take the third division side, but bitter battles are expected before three other teams fight their way into the semi-finals.

Particularly in the Derby County-Sunderland match is the result uncertain. Only two points separate them in the league standings. They are as closely matched as possible. Manchester United, who suffered a head injury in an automobile accident last week-end, Barrett, West Ham's centre half, who was with him at the time, was not injured.

Luton Town are taking twelve men to play Everton but it is doubtful whether Anderson will start.

Several interesting league games also will be staged to-morrow among teams previously eliminated from cup competition. Sheffield Wednesday probably will increase their lead over Aston Villa, who are idle, four points, by a win from Wolveshampton Wanderers, with Arsenal keeping ahead of the Wednesday by beating Liverpool. The clash between Newcastle United, in fourth place, and West Bromwich Albion, sixth, should bring out some of the best soccer of the day.

All three second division leaders get into action, with Stoke City, leading Tottenham Hotspurs and Burny by a point, taking on Port Vale. The Spurs play at Southampton, while Burny are hosts to Grimsby Town.

TOUGH MATCH

Brentford have the hardest assignment among the third division southern section leaders, meeting Southend United, Norwich, trailing Brentford by two points, ahead of the Wednesday Town and Exeter City, in third place, are called to take Gillingham.

Hull City and Chester, top dogs in the third division northern section, meet Mansfield Town and Chester, respectively, and both should come through with wins.

Glasgow, March 3.—Favorites for the Scottish Cup probably will emerge from the clash to-morrow between Motherwell and Kilmarnock, at Rugby Park, in the quarter-final round of the premier Scottish competition. Runners-up in the league, Motherwell are chosen to defeat the Killies, defeated in the final last year by Rangers, whom they eliminated from this year's cup contest on February 16.

Once over this hurdle, Motherwell or Kilmarnock, if they should upset predictions with a win—are expected to go on and win the cup. Exported forward, James McQueen, points to a 3 to 2 victory at Rugby Park December 23 as an indication the ground advantage will not save Kilmarnock from elimination, but any cuffs that could advantage of Motherwell's preoccupation with cup play to increase their lead to six points with a win over Third Lanark.

Albion Rovers are expected to give Clyde a good game at Cliftonhill Park, but there is little doubt in the minds of experts the first division team will win by a good margin. Celtic, with little chance of catching Rangers in the league race, have pinned all their hopes on a cup win and should advance into the semi-finals.

Clyde, a low first division club, at favored to take the second division third-place team, Stenhousemuir, in park fourth round, played at Stenhousemuir Park, Glasgow, home of the Clyde.

While cup teams are battling to stay in the hunt, the eliminated outfits continue league play. Rangers, the only leader in action, probably will take advantage of Motherwell's preoccupation with cup play to increase their lead to six points with a win over Third Lanark.

Peden and Audy Are In Tenth Position

after a night of wild jamming. In second place and trailing by one lap was the French-Belgian pair of Le-tourner and Debats. A three-way tie existed for third place, and three pairs were despatched for sixth place.

The Canadians were tenth, five laps behind the leader.

This morning's standings follow:

Victoria Rider and Montreal Partner Lose Ground in New York Six-day Bike Race; Lands and Thomas Out in Front By One-lap Margin

New York, March 3.—Blonde little Jules Audy, Montreal, and his towering partner, Torchy Peden, Victoria, B.C., to-day were far in the luck as the Madison Square Garden six-day bicycle race passed the 107th hour.

Dave Lands and Bobby Thomas, the United States pair, clung to the lead

M.C.C. Batsmen Show Much Power

Melbourne, Australia, March 2.—Ten thousand people watched the visiting M.C.C. score 121 runs against Victoria to-day in the first exhibition game following the test series which the M.C.C. won by four games to one.

Herbert Sutcliffe knocked up seventy-five, and Maurice Tate added a powerful ninety-four, not out. Wally Hammond drove everything that came in his way for fifty-nine minutes to score fifty-nine runs. He scored two sixes and eight fours.

MISS FISHWICK IS ELIMINATED

British Girl Beaten By Team-mate in Florida Golf; Miss Garnham Advances

St. Augustine, Fla., March 3.—Upsets yesterday removed Maurice O'Creut, defending champion, and Diana Fishwick, leading English star, from the second round of the Florida east coast women's golf championship, leaving two British and two United States players still in the running.

Miss O'Creut fell under a sound 4 and 3 drubbing administered by Mrs. Frances Williams, Delon Springs, Fla. Miss Fishwick met her third defeat in as many Florida tournaments when she was beaten 4 and 2 by Barbara Pym, another English entry.

The tournament medalist, Kathleen Granham, also from Great Britain, trounced Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit, 1 up, and Frances Hatfield, Milwaukee, took a 3 and 2 count from Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City, a favorite for the title.

Crickets Meeting Scheduled Monday

Consideration of plans for the entertainment of the Victorian English Cricketers, returning to their homes with the mythical Ashes and scheduled to pass through the city on April 25, will be featured at the adjourned annual meeting of the Victoria Cricket Association at the Y.M.C.A. Monday evening, at 8 o'clock. Other important matters will also come up for discussion.

to-morrow meet their city rivals, Hibernians, in an Edinburgh "derby." With only three losses in thirty league games and several brilliant cup wins, Hibernians, second division leaders, take an impressive record into the battle.

Hearts, however, have gained third place in the first division in a season against stronger opposition than Hibernians have had to face. Hibernians have the advantage of playing at Easter Road; their home, but there will be thousands of Hearts supporters in the throng turning out for the game.

Keen to return to the first division as cup holders and bring the trophy to Easter Road for the first time since 1902, Hibernians will put everything they have into the battle, but they will need all their cleverness and strength to stand up before the sturdy first division side.

Albion Rovers are expected to give Clyde a good game at Cliftonhill Park, but there is little doubt in the minds of experts the first division team will win by a good margin. Celtic, with little chance of catching Rangers in the league race, have pinned all their hopes on a cup win and should advance into the semi-finals.
